Comfort of Old Soldiers Related in Probe

INMATES OF HOME GIVEN VERY BEST, WITNESSES SAY

Charges of Inhuman Treatment of Inmates of Old Soldiers' Home Rebutted in Hearing.

M'ALLISTER PRAISED BY MANY WITNESSES

Investigating Committee Expected To End Probe With Morning and Afternoon Sessions Today.

Aged Confederate veterans, spending their last days in perfect contentment in comfortable, sanitary surroundings and under the sympathetic eye of Superintendent W. E. McAllister—quite different from the sordid descriptions of the preceding day—was the picture portrayed by witnesses Friday before the special legislative committee appointed by the general assembly to investigate conditions existing in the Old Soldiers' home here.

Members of the Atlanta and Fulton chapters of the United Daughters of the Confederacy, who charged gross mismanagement and inhuman neglect of inmates of the home, sent their last witness to the stand shortly before noon. The afternoon session was occupied by defense witnesses whose testimony was designed to refute the prosecution's charges.

Dr. W. K. Smith, chairman of the investigating committee, stated Friday afternoon that the probe would probably be completed some time today.

After the last of the complainant's witnesses left the stand the tide of testimony changed. Defense witnesses took the stand Friday afternoon, the first one being Captain J. M. James, of Wayne county, an inmate of the home. He characterized Superintendent Major McAllister as "fine man," who does everything possible for the comfort of the veterans. He could not answer questions as to Superintendent McAllister sending veterans to the state sanitarium at Milledgeville on the alleged claim that they were unmanageable.

McAllister Praised.

Mrs. M. K. McCrary, member of the Atlanta U. D. C., took the stand late Monday afternoon and spoke at length on the happy conditions at the home, of the sympathetic character of Major McAllister and of the wonderful improvements which have been wrought during his superintendency at the institution. She visited the home practically every day, she declared, because of the interest she took in the old soldiers.

Carl Witt, Atlanta real estate owner, testified at the afternoon session that he had known Major McAllister for 25 years, and had found him to be one of the finest, most honest and upright men that he had ever known. He stated that he had visited the soldier's home on numerous occasions and found conditions to be excellent and that the hospital at the home was "clean and sanitary."

The next witness was Mrs. Lov-

OPPORTUNITY'S KNOCK

Time

Time is money in your pocket. Idleness is the false currency of time.

If time were as well spent as most men think it is going to be when they lay plans for the future, there would be few failures in life. The trouble is that too many tomorrow's never come, and too many todays are wasted.

There is no occasion for putting your time to good uses like the present. Your past and your future are inaccessible to you today. You must use the time you have—or none at all!

Is there a hint in this that now is the time to begin taking advantage of Constitution Classified Ads?

LOVERS' ADVISOR TO WED SINGER; MAY QUIT WORK

New York, October 3.—Beatrice Fairfax, who has been giving daily advice to the lovemore all these many years, took serious counsel with herself recently and very soon will be authoritatively qualified to discourse on the old subject, how to be happy though married.

Beatrice is Miss Lillian Laufer. Her father, Alexander S. Laufer, of New York, formerly of Fort Wayne, Ind., and Brookline, Mass., announces her engagement to James Wolfe, a Metropolitan opera basso of considerable note. Wolfe is known as a leading Wagnerian basso in European capitals a dubious previous service in the Chicago opera.

Whether Mrs. Wolfe will continue to answer the question "Dear Miss Fairfax, I am in love with a young man three years my senior" letters has not been revealed.

LEAGUE ADVISERS WILL FIX AGENDA

Standing Commission on Disarmament Revised and Enlarged To Plan 1925 Conference.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

Geneva, October 3.—Before adjourning this evening the council of the league of nations adopted resolutions whereby in preparation for next year's conference on the reduction in armaments, the league's disarmament commission will be transformed into a commission of coordination. It will simultaneously be revised and enlarged to include all the representative groups fundamentally interested in the success of the conference.

Although no plan was adopted whereby the United States will be invited to participate in the work of the new commission, league officials said tonight that the question of collaboration of non-member states would be decided at the next meeting of the council in Rome in December.

Personnel of Commission.

The reorganized commission will consist of representatives of all states having seats in the council, two members each from the economical, financial and transit organizations of the United States. The topic of discussion at the session was general Pan-American and world relations.

Miss Mary Boyce Temple, of Tennessee, president general of the Woman's auxiliary, delivered a talk on woman's part in Latin-American relations and offered a resolution favoring a national standard of compulsory education.

The state central committee in its statement reaffirms its confidence in the heads of the national ticket and declares: "We are proud to stand on the life and record of Calvin Coolidge against the attacks of any man."

Simultaneously with the committee's pronouncement, Mrs. Miriam Stewart Hollowell, Iowa national committee-woman, issued a statement in which she declared that Senator Brookhart's "attack on my candidates, which comes like a slap in the face, leaves me with no other choice than to feel that he has forfeited the right to be elected."

Pledged to Coolidge.

The committee's statement, after setting out at length the achievements of President Coolidge and Mr. Dawes, concludes:

"The republican party in Iowa without a dissenting vote instructed its delegates to the national convention to vote for Calvin Coolidge and made this instruction a part of their platform."

"Every candidate for office in the republican ticket entered into the primary campaign and field as a republican after the Iowa convention has succeeded to President Coolidge."

"We, as the representatives of the republican party in Iowa, elected those who cannot go along with his policies, and repudiated him."

"The republican voter of the state that the repudiation of the republican nominee by Senator Brookhart is a repudiation of, and a bolt from, the republican party."

"To realize what is taking place in the republican party, one only need look at the contrast in the democratic party, where an enormous effort is being made to break up three irreconcilable schools of political thought. Republicans attack this as insincere, and politically dishonest."

TRADE CONGRESS LEADERS INSPECT LOCAL INDUSTRIES

Third Day of Pan-American Congress Session Featured by Addresses by Southern Delegates.

DELEGATES ARE GUESTS AT ELABORATE BANQUET

State-Owned Port Idea Presented by Mobile, Ala., Mayor—Two Georgians Are Heard.

The third day of the Pan-American commercial congress, attended by representatives of twenty-one Latin-American countries and approximately a score and ten delegates from various sections and states of the United States, was given over mainly to tour of the industrial sections of Atlanta and environs, under the guidance and direction of the Georgia Manufacturers' association, and a formal reception at night at the Piedmont Driving club.

Three formal sessions of the resolutions committee were held during the day, one at 9 o'clock Friday morning, one during the afternoon and one at 10:30 o'clock last night.

The final session of the committee will meet at 9 o'clock this morning, and all resolution, will be presented at the close of this afternoon's meeting of the congress. Embodied in the report will be a practical program summing up the work of the congress, and telling of its actual and anticipated results.

Only one session was held Friday and that in the morning, when a number of addresses were made by speakers from the southern section of the United States. The topic of discussion at the session was general Pan-American and world relations.

Miss Mary Boyce Temple, of Tennessee, president general of the Woman's auxiliary, delivered a talk on woman's part in Latin-American relations and offered a resolution favoring a national standard of compulsory education.

FIVE NEW PAVING PROJECTS OKAYED

Council Committee Awards Contracts for Street Paving at Total Cost of $33,466.68.

Awards of five paving contracts, totaling $33,466.68 were recommended Friday by the streets committee of city council. The contracts call for 13,577 square yards of vibrocrete concrete paving, and 2,808 square yards of asphalt paving on repaired macadam. All contracts were awarded to the lowest bidders.

Contracts affected are Arnold, Euclid, Greenwich, Webster and Lexington avenue. A contract for paving Lee street from West End to Greenery avenue was held up, as more paving in the same section will be started soon, and it is planned to award contracts for both projects at the same time.

Petitions filed by George Boynton, and asking that assessment districts be created for taxing land owners effected by widening of Courtland and Peachtree streets, were approved by the committee, and with the paving contracts, will be presented to council on Monday.

Successful Bidders.

The body recommended that Sam B. Finley be given the contract to pave 2,808 square yards on Arnold street, between Wabash and Rankin streets, his bid for Finley asphalt on repaired macadam being $1.45 per square yard, or a total of $4,071.60.

The following three contracts, all of which call for vibrocrete concrete paving, will go to Jamison and Hall:

One thousand, four hundred and forty-five square yards on Euclid street between West Fair and Par-

Brookhart Bolts Republican Party, Say Iowa Chiefs

Iowa State Central Body Brands Insurgent Attitude as Inspired by La Follette Men.

BROOKHART ASSAILS COOLIDGE IN SPEECH

Scores President as Tool of Wall Street and Compares Record in Congress as Proof.

BY RAYMOND CLAPPER.

Des Moines, October 3.—The Iowa republican central committee today decided that Senator Smith W. Brookhart had ruled himself out of the republican ranks when he denounced President Coolidge and Charles G. Dawes, republican nominees for president and vice president.

The committee itself did not directly declare Senator Brookhart out of the party but stated that his statements of the past few days were "a repudiation of and a bolt from the republican party."

Senator Brookhart, who opened his campaign for reelection at Emmettsburg today with a vigorous attack upon President Coolidge, declared that because he (Brookhart) "was nominated by 200,000 republican voters," it was he who represented the republicans of Iowa rather than the present republican organization, which he said was controlled by "a small group of crooked and irresponsible dictators set up by the Non-Partisan league of Wall street."

Accuse La Follette.

The committee declared that the heads of the La Follette party inspired Senator Brookhart's actions "for the malicious purpose of attempting to turn the attention of the voters from the real issues of this campaign" and "defeat the right of the people to elect a president at the polls," thereby throwing the election into Congress.

To make the situation worse, the republican national committee claims to have good evidence that Iowa democrats are combining with La Follette forces. Altogether, Brookhart's break with Coolidge, following his assault on Dawes a few days ago, not only makes it exceedingly doubtful if the republicans will get Iowa, but it correspondingly increases La Follette's chances of being able to throw the election into Congress.

Same Problem in Nebraska.

Worse yet, there is a genuine fear among regular republicans that a similar situation is brewing in Nebraska. Senator George Norris, who has been a La Follette republican, has, like Brookhart hitherto, kept silent regarding Coolidge. Republicans will be content now if he will only remain silent. If he should attack Coolidge as Brookhart has done, Nebraska could be regarded as definitely lost.

Aside from the actual electoral battles involved, these situations hold a psychological effect which will extend far beyond the confines of the two states in question.

In a way the Brookhart development was inevitable. Coolidge, contrary to the policy adopted by Harding, has never sought to placate the insurgents. He fought them to the bitter end in Congress, and in the Cleveland convention. They are to all practical purposes excommunicated from the campaign activities. They expect and get no favors. They break with Coolidge wants no help.

Coolidge is a conservative and he is trying to make the republican party the vehicle of conservative policy. He does not believe in a party split. He wants at one end and red at the other. He wants to make it all conservative and has succeeded to a large degree.

Those who cannot go along with his policies, and repudiate him, will have an opportunity to go somewhere else. Brookhart has accepted that invitation. There should be no surprise about it.

To realize what is taking place in the republican party, one only need look at the contrast in the democratic party, where an enormous effort is being made to break up three irreconcilable schools of political thought. Republicans attack this as insincere, and politically dishonest.

Great News for Youngsters; BALLOON-TIRED COASTER OFFER INTRODUCED

"Constitution Express" Free

Boys and girls—glorious news! "The Constitution Express," the fastest and snappiest coaster wagon you ever dreamed of, is yours at free in return for only a few hours of pleasant activity.

These crisp fall afternoons call for a speedy coaster wagon and an incline, where you can go "scouting down" and have lots of fun.

You'll find that it's easy to win one for yourself, and father and mother, uncle and aunt, cousin and neighbor will gladly help you.

So don't fail to turn right now to the big page ad in this issue of The Constitution and read the details carefully.

Judge Sibley's refusal to issue the interlocutory injunction was based on the fact that he reached the school age.

DAVIS' DAUGHTER TO SEND APPEAL TO YOUNG VOTERS

She Left Her Husband in Europe To Come and Help Make Father President of U. S.

REFUSES TO PLEAD FOR "DAD" ON STUMP

She Says Such Action Would Not Be "Fitting"—Organizes Drive by Mail.

BY THOMAS L. STOKES.

Washington, October 3.—The daughter of John W. Davis, an attractive, soft-spoken young woman, is here to open a nation-wide drive, in her father's behalf, for the "freshman" vote of the country, comprising some 3,700,000 youngsters who are privileged to vote in a presidential election for the first time this year.

Mrs. William McMillan Adams—she used to be just Julia Davis—is a freshman voter herself. She's only 24.

Her husband is in Denmark, as representative of an American business concern. Mrs. Adams came back to this country to take charge of the campaign to enlist the young people's vote in the democratic column, as part of the victory drive.

Covers 2 Avenues of Attack.

After a conference with leaders here at headquarters Friday, she announced that the drive would be two-fold:

L. A letter campaign to heads of various young people's organizations in the country, urging an active campaign for Davis.

IRISH BILL GETS SECOND READING IN HOUSE OF LORDS

London, October 3.—(By the Associated Press).—The house of lords today gave first reading to the Irish bill, providing for a commission to adjust the boundary between Ulster and the Free State, which yesterday passed its third final reading in the house of commons.

The majority of Salisbury pointed out that several members of the lords desired to address their compatriots on the matter and suggested that the debate in connection with the second reading be taken Tuesday or Wednesday. To this proposal, the lord chancellor assented on behalf of the government.

WISCONSIN KLAN TO TEST STRENGTH

Madison, Wis., October 3.—The Ku Klux Klan will invade the city to-morrow, openly for the first time, in a demonstration of its strength. It is to be a virtual test of its strength in the state following Governor E. A. Tamm's recent attack on the order.

A crowd of 10,000 members of the order and spectators from other cities are expected to arrive tomorrow by motor cars from Milwaukee, Racine, Kenosha, Janesville, Beloit, Oshkosh, Illinois, and other cities in this vicinity.

Although no animosity to the Klan has been displayed here openly, preparation have been made to prevent disorder. The Klan obtained a permit from Mayor Eitzenhofer to march around the city, which it shall rest content with your judgment."

Reviewing his nomination the senator said his principal supporters were farmers and laboring people, "denounced as radicals by the press and his supporters."

Claims He Was Snubbed.

The republican state convention, dominated by the Klan, was suspended and insulted me," he continued.

All saddle horses in the city have been engrossed for the parade tomorrow night. The Klan request that Madison police lead the procession was refused.

Although the parade was arranged after a statement by Governor Bullock that the Klan had obtained a permit held in the state, it was announced today that the governor will be in Owen, Wis., attending a meeting of the tornado relief committee.

An invitation will be held at Miller Park near the city limits, in the afternoon, and the Klan will start for the city's business district about 8:30 o'clock. After the march around the square, the Klansmen will return to the park for a night demonstration.

pose of attempting to turn the attention of the voters from the real issue of the campaign.

"The self-imposed task from the republican ranks by Senator Brookhart is the result of a conspiracy to defeat the right of the people to elect a president at the polls and to force such an election by a congress selected two to six years ago.

We, as republicans, who believe in the principles of the United States and who believe in cooperation rather than destruction, will continue our campaign for President Coolidge and Mr. Dawes and all republicans on the ticket.

"On any issue or honesty, integrity and interest in the welfare of all the people we are proud to stand on the side and record of Calvin Coolidge against the attacks of any man."

COOLIDGE IS TARGET FOR BROOKHART FIRE.
BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

Emmettsburg, Iowa, October 3.—Senator George O. P. Brookhart, state center in Iowa politics since his election two years ago, and who early this week denounced Charles G. Dawes, republican vice presidential candidate, formally opened his campaign for reelection here today with an address in which he attacked President Coolidge and "machine party leaders." Refusing to reports that he would support the presidential candidacy of Robert M. La Follette, he said he never had a thought of leaving the republican party.

The republican party, Senator Brookhart charged, has strayed from the ideals of its founders, while the "machine organization," he declared, had failed to recognize the will of the people.

Referring particularly to his own differences with leaders of his party, Senator Brookhart said that although he had been nominated "by 200,000 republicans, without a machine and without money," and was "opposed by Wall street money and by the president's power," his nomination had not been recognized by President Coolidge as the voice of republicanism in Iowa.

Names His Differences.

Senator Brookhart declared republican leaders refused him favor because he had differed on so many occasions from the national administration, naming a dozen issues.

"I belong to the farm bloc; the president belongs to the Wall street bloc," he declared in designating President Coolidge as "the machine candidate."

"I have never had a thought of leaving the republican party," the senator said. "My whole soul is wrapped up in the principles of Lincoln, Roosevelt and Wilson. I am fighting any leaders who seek to divert the party from these great purposes."

Senator Brookhart said Lincoln as said, "the autocratic powers of the supreme court" in the case of Dred Scott decision; the Roosevelt administration, "which organized the farm and labor movement and for economic freedom and equality of the farmers and common people."

"These ideas," he said, "have brought me in sharp disagreement with many different elements which style themselves reformists and for a financial power control the policies of the national administration."

"I have said that I would do as much for Coolidge as he would do for me and the voters are entitled to know what we have done for each other and also each other shall give and receive favors inside the state and rest content with your judgment."

Reviewing his nomination the senator said his principal supporters were farmers and laboring people, "denounced as radicals by the press and his supporters."

Claims He Was Snubbed.

The republican state convention, dominated by the Klan, was suspended and insulted me," he continued.

All saddle horses in the city have been engrossed for the parade tomorrow night. The Klan request that Madison police lead the procession was refused.

Although the parade was arranged after a statement by Governor Bullock that the Klan had obtained a permit held in the state, it was announced today that the governor will be in Owen, Wis., attending a meeting of the tornado relief committee.

An invitation will be held at Miller Park near the city limits, in the afternoon, and the Klan will start for the city's business district about 8:30 o'clock. After the march around the square, the Klansmen will return to the park for a night demonstration.

Hits Coolidge On Rails.

In a round-table discussion the president quoted and approved a valuation of thirty-five billions as the value of railroads and certain other utilities. I can not tell the exact values of these utilities from his statement but they would probably not exceed five billion dollars. This would leave thirty billion dollars as the value of railroads.

The republican platform declared for a farm relief bill upon the principle of the McNary-Haugen bill. I approve, and stand upon this platform and I ask that the president do the same but he will not do it. His opposition widely advertised in eastern newspapers defeated the McNary-Haugen bill in congress.

Mobile Mayor Speaks.

Addressing the session on general Pan-American and world relations Friday morning, Mayor Hartwell detailed to members of the congress the port development on the Gulf of Mexico. He extended Alabama's welcome to the commercial and diplomatic representatives of Latin-American and other countries.

He also expressed the desire of that state to know better in relations of friendship as well as commerce the peoples of the sister republics.

The Mobile mayor, by way of opening his address, said: "It is fitting that this congress has selected Atlanta for its convention, for it is in place where the activities of the west meet and the progress of the west meets the spirit of the south. In fact, Atlanta is the capital of our commercial southland."

"Eleven years ago the southern commercial congress met at Mobile," said Mr. Hartwell. "Then and there was the doctrine proclaimed which gave a new heart a new mind and new spirit to the southern hemisphere of ours. The words of America's most highly distinguished and respected citizen, Woodrow Wilson, spoken at that time: 'Never again shall the United States seek to acquire additional territory by conquest' removed at breath all elements of doubt and distrust. At Mobile then was given the Pan-American law.

"I wired the president asking for an extra session of congress immediately and Secretary Scammon wrote me that he would call the matter to the attention of the president and hoped I would call when in the city. The Coolidge Caesar Rapids gang immediately brought out an independent candidate for senator against me."

Names Causes of Friction.

"The cause of this situation grows out of the following matters in connection with the president's speech."

"I was against Newberryism. The president was for it.

"I was against the ship subsidy. The president supported it.

"I was in favor of repealing the Esch-Cummins railroad law, and the president opposed its repeal.

"I was in favor of investigating corruption in the departments. The president opposed the investigation and criticized the senate for its action.

"The president favored the Mellon tax bill which reduced taxes on the big incomes by a big percentage and on the little incomes by a little percentage. I helped amend the bill to reverse these reductions in favor of common people.

"I favored the old soldiers' bill. The president vetoed it and I voted to pass it over the veto. It succeeded.

Stands On His Record.

"I favored postal employees bill. It was vetoed and I will vote to pass it over the veto.

"On all taxation I favor high taxes on excess profits and large incomes and estates. The president favors the Mellon plan which taxes the poor.

"I oppose giving Muscle Shoals to Henry Ford or any other private interests. The president favored it.

"I favored Senator La Follette's resolution to adjourn congress until July after the conventions and then return and enact the farm bill. The president opposed it, and wants an unauthorized commission instead.

"I belong to the farm bloc.

"Upon this record I stand for my re-election, and I promise the farmers, the laborers and the common people that they shall not be double-crossed and sacrificed with my knowledge or consent. I will do in the future as have done in the past."

Mrs. Adams is a quiet, pleasant young woman, with a good deal about her face that recalls her father, especially when she smiles. She is slight in build, and trifle below medium height. Her general appearance is that of a young girl, though there is nothing of the flapper type about her. She wore a brown tailor-made suit Friday, with a topi to match.

Plans Are Detailed.

The letter which she sent out Friday asks that special plans be made for a meeting of the young first voters the week before election. Her effort will be directed principally toward the girls of all types, though she suggests that young men be invited to the program. Here is her suggestion for a program:

"For your program get a business girl, a professional girl, a college girl and a society girl each to tell why she ought to vote. Have a woman popular with young people preside, and arrange for a sixth speaker, also a favorite in the people's home, in other words, a person who, in an eloquent, crisp speech, will tell why John W. Davis should be elected president of the United States."

McKellar Pushes Ship Campaign To Move Cotton

Memphis, Tenn., October 3.—Continuing his campaign for additional American ships to move cotton, lumber and grain from gulf ports, Senator K. D. McKellar today sought to enlist the aid of more than two-score members of congress and took issue with Chairman T. V. O'Connor, of the shipping board, over the question of congressional appropriations for the shipping board.

In telegrams to members of the senate and house, the Tennessee senator stated that gulf ports were congested with cotton, lumber and grain for export, that ships allocated to the gulf were insufficient in number and capacity to handle the business, and asked them to join in a resolution to demand Congress to direct the shipping board to take the necessary action to relieve the situation.

In regard to congressional appropriations for the shipping board, Mr. McKellar made public an exchange of telegrams between himself and Chairman O'Connor, in which the latter stated that the board was concerned over the necessity of securing "within limited congressional appropriations."

Replying to this message, Senator Mc- Kellar asked Mr. O'Connor to cite the law limiting the appropriations for the shipping board, and declared that while a message from Leigh C. Palmer, president of the Emergency Fleet corporation, "was most reassuring, is quite disheartening."

"The campaign is intensely desirous of building up our merchant marine and heartily willing to furnish the necessary money for this purpose," the message continued. "Don't get the idea that I am trying to hamper you. I want you to get the business and handle it. What law of congress will affect your appropriation?"

Mr. Palmer's message, referred to by Senator Mc-Kellar as "most reassuring," informed the senator that several additional vessels had been allocated to the gulf.

Ask Injunction To Stop Cowmen Releasing Cattle

Mobile, Ala., October 3.—Solicitor Bart B. Chamberlain will be asked tomorrow by Sheriff Paul G. Cazalas to apply for an injunction to restrain cattle-owners from interfering with enforcement of stock-law regulations at Irvington, in south Mobile county, the sheriff announced tonight following the renewed outburst of hostile sentiment early today when a group of unidentified men released a herd of cattle from the corral at Irvington.

Twenty-five head of cattle went free when the group of men demolished a fence and cut a hole in the fence at Irvington early today, Sheriff Cazalas said. It marked the second instance in which the precinct stock corral at Irvington has been attacked and cattle set free. The first occurred on Tuesday, September 16, when 16 head of cattle were released after the fence around the corral. Warrants charging the unlawful assembly were served on 20 well-known business men and stock owners in lower Mobile county as a result of the incident. They waived preliminary examination and the affair will be investigated by the grand jury. The cattle released today were under federal quarantine and it was believed government authorities might take a hand in the probe of the matter.

WOULD DROP SUIT ON HARVESTER CO.

St. Paul, Minn., October 3.—A petition to dismiss the government's case against the International Harvester company for alleged violation of the Sherman anti-trust suit was filed today by J. M. Dickey, clerk of the federal court here, by C. A. Seversen, of St. Paul, solicitor for the company, and other counsel for the firm.

Hearing on the dismissal petition will be held here Monday before Judge John B. Sanborn, presiding judge of the United States circuit court of appeals, and two federal district judges.

The case against the company was reopened in St. Paul July 17, 1923, by former Attorney General Harry M. Daugherty on a supplemental bill which set forth that the company was not fulfilling the terms of a court order handed down in federal court in 1912.

On May 13, 1924, federal Judges W. F. Booth sat on the case for hearing on October 23 and ordered counsel for the government and defendants to submit briefs by June 15.

The dismissal petition asks that the case be removed from the calendar for lack of prosecution, and that the government have no jurisdiction over a foreign consul.

It was set forth that attorneys for the company have sought the government's briefs on several occasions and have been promised copies, but that thus far the promise has not been fulfilled.

New York, October 3.—A new type of rum runner—a craft carrying two powerful motors—was captured in steel tubs to deflect bullets—was captured in New York harbor today with her crew of five men and a cargo of 300 cases of whisky.

For five miles the police boat chased the water in the wake of the primitive boat which set a 23-knot pace, capturing it just before it was about to make the open sea.

The captive was found to have two 450 horsepower Liberty motors.

FAIRBURN YOUTH SETS HIGH RECORD IN MERCER TEST

Macon, Ga., October 3.—(Special) Joe Gordon Tarpley, of Fairburn, led 241 men at Mercer in a psychological test given to the freshmen before he goes sailing home.

While hereabouts Dr. R. H. is down to do some testing over the Myopia Clubhouse at Hamilton, Mass. He will be the guest of Bayard Tuckerman, Jr., who met the Prince last year while on a hunting trip at Lechmere, England.

News of H. R. H.'s coming was confirmed by the British embassy but no one seems to know exactly when he will arrive. It is said he probably will not come to Boston about October 20.

Just now he is "roughing it" on his Canadian ranch.

While in Massachusetts, and not following the hounds in the Myopia hunting country, his highness will be taken to points of historic interest, including Bunker Hill, Lexington and Concord.

"His entertainment will be purely and simply a vacation," Mr. Tuckerman said.

MARKSMEN SLAY 1,900 TEXAS CATTLE

Houston, Texas, October 3.—Nearly 1,900 cattle, approximately one-fourth of them pure-blood Brahmas, were shot and killed in three major operations on contiguous pastures 20 miles south of Houston today in a concerted effort to check the spread of foot and mouth disease in south Texas.

Among the first to be sacrificed on the altar of public safety. From his cramped position in an eight-foot trench, he laid his head and died, it seemed, almost contemplatively at his executioner. A rifle cracked and Syrios died in "vicarious atonement" as his owner, the Rev. William S. Jacobs, pastor of a Houston church, put it, that $80,000 other Texas cattle might live.

Sixty men moved down the long trench, their rifles snorting death. Methodically they slew bulls, cows, and calves and then moved to two other trenches filled with range cattle. As quickly as practicable laborers covered the bodies with lime and steamshovels began to cover them with earth.

It was roughly estimated that cattle valued at $175,000 had been destroyed. The federal government will compensate owners for one-half of the sum the appraisers find to be due and the state will bear the expense of the removal. Owners have been compensated at their market value.

The maximum for blooded cattle is three times their price as beef. Today was the seventh which has passed without a report of additional infestations. "Each day without a break," Dr. Marion Innes, federal inspector, announced, means that we are making progress. There is no cause to be hopeful. I do not feel however, that the initial period of danger is over until 21 days have passed after the infection was discovered."

Pastor's Charge Against Members Draws Hot Reply

Charges by Rev. Thomas Papageorge, pastor of the Atlanta Greek Orthodox church, who has been tempted to oust him by "royalist" members of the congregation and who filed suit for injunction restraining any such action several days ago in Fulton superior court, were answered Friday in resolutions adopted by the congregation.

The resolution set out that the church has full power to choose and remove its priests.

IDEAL WEATHER FORECAST TODAY BY VON HERRMANN

Ideal weather is Forecaster C. F. von Herrmann's prediction for today. "Crisp and clear," he said, "with just enough 'bite' in the atmosphere to add zest to the Georgia Tech-V. M. I. football game."

Reports from the weather bureau in Washington, however, conflict with the local forecaster's prediction, stating that rain may likely over this section.

Little change is indicated, the forecaster said, in today's temperature. Early this morning the mercury will be rather low but will climb with the sun, dropping again as evening comes on. "It will hover around the 70 to 72 mark the major part of the day," he added.

Coincident with the coming of October, Forecaster von Herrmann added, came a period of dry weather. He observed that the skies have been clear since September 20, lightly tapping wood as he made the assertion.

Arrangements were made by the conference, so far as practicable, for the interchange of district judges between the circuits, but it was evident to the conference, Chief Justice Taft stated, that the additional judges recently appointed were needed in the bankruptcy act by which the distinction between "petitions to revise" and "appeals" would be removed, and all such proceedings would be brought in "appeals" only. This, the conference decided, would materially contribute to expediting bankruptcy business.

Another important act of the conference was the adoption of a resolution recommending that district judges should change their rulings in their courts with the object of expediting business. Among the changes in the rules of district courts which the conference proposed, the most important was that which would confine the examination of proposed jurors as to their qualifications to such questions as the court itself might ask, counsel to have the right to suggest questions to the court, but to be excluded from otherwise participating in the examination.

Pretty Bathing Beauties Arrive for Big Fair Week

A glimpse of beauties who will be featured for the next week in the Bathing Revue and diving girl exhibitions in Rubin and Cherry shows at the Southeastern fair.

Strange lights glimmered along the lake at Lakewood Heights Friday night, and the spectators who had lumbered and grinded along the road until the early hours of Saturday morning. Early risers wondered what the strange shadowy activity meant, but the kids were the first to discover the secret.

Rubin and Cherry show train unloading and for its first engagement at the Southeastern fair at Atlanta, which opens today.

The long train pulled in shortly before midnight and the work of unloading began immediately. Sleepy-eyed showmen became wide awake and everything moved with clocklike precision.

This year the Rubin & Cherry shows on the opening day will mark the first time that a carnival has been ready for exhibition at the Southeastern fair on the first day of the fair schedule, it is said.

President Coolidge will make the address at the dedication ceremonies.

Members of the first division have been arriving in town for the last two days.

HOSE-WHIP UPHELD FOR TEACHERS' USE

White Plains, N. Y., October 3.—Right of school principal to punishment of students with a hose was upheld tonight by a large majority at an open town meeting.

The meeting had been called to consider the issue which was raised by the use of a rubber hose on a negro by Howard L. Holden, principal of Elmsford school. The child's parents had protested.

The board had voted 3 to 2 against the practice.

KISSING PROHIBITED

Soviet Government Extends Regulatory Operations.

Moscow, October 3.—Dr. Nicholas Samashko, Soviet commissar of health, has issued an edict against kissing, which, he contends, is one of the most potent means of spreading disease. The new order, if observed, will put hard upon the Russian society who are in the habit of kissing one another not only on the lips, but three times on each cheek in salutation. Dr. Samashko is also opposed to kissing of ladies' hands by men, a national custom in Russia. Not only is this unhygienic, he said, but it is a practice of the Russian which has no place in a proletarian republic.

Handshaking has been prohibited in many departments of the government and signs are appearing warning employees that the practice frequently results in communication of disease.

Famous Surgeon Dies.

Paris, October 3.—Benjamin Auguste Brochet, member of the Academy of Medicine, and famous French surgeon, died today.

Edgar, Ohio, October 3.—The Hamilton county grand jury today returned two indictments against Vernon Price, grain merchant, who shot and killed his brother-in-law, Mrs. Frances D. Rawson, September 26, and also shot and wounded his sister-in-law, Nina Rawson.

The first indictment charges Price with the slaying of Mrs. Rawson with intent to kill.

La Follette Electors Will Go on Ballot In North Carolina

Raleigh, N. C., October 3.—Reversing its previous ruling, the state board of elections this afternoon decided to print and distribute in 81 counties the ballots for the La Follette-Wheelwright independent ticket. In the other 19 counties of the state the Australian ballot system is used and the counties print their own ballots.

The board previously had ruled that the tickets for the independent party electors would have to be printed at the party's expense. Today's action was taken on an appeal from the first ruling by the independent party state leaders and at the urging of republican and democratic state chairmen and the recommendation of the attorney general that it be done by the state in the interest of "fair play."

MOTHER IS FREED OF KIDNAP CHARGE ON PLEA OF LOVE

Columbus, Ohio, October 3.—The instinct of mother-love which led Mrs. Roy McClain to take her 13-year-old daughter away from her husband, after the latter was awarded custody of the child by a divorce court, has caused Mrs. McClain to be freed of a charge of kidnapping.

County Prosecutor King took the responsibility of deciding that the woman, held in Detroit for the kidnapper authorities, should go free.

"Why should this little girl in after years be told that her mother was sent to the penitentiary for love of her?" demanded King. He then ordered Mrs. McClain's release.

SILVER AND GEMS STOLEN BY DAPPER FAKE REPORTER

Tuxedo Park, New York, October 3.—All over England and in America, speculation on the general election is hardening into a virtual certainty that the election will be precipitated on the question of the Russian treaty, which will have to be met when the regular session of parliament convenes October 28.

The case of the communist editor, Mr. La Follette, who has been invited to speak at a conference between the independent presidential candidate and Gilbert E. Roe, his eastern campaign director.

Roe is understood to have urged the New York state, New Jersey and Pennsylvania, and to have taken the position that if necessary stamping in the west and northwest should be curtailed to make this possible. After the conference, it was stated that Mr. La Follette still was determined to invade the country.

Members of parliament jammed outgoing trains Friday, returning to their constituencies to prepare for a general election.

Although government spokesmen press to welcome the election and claim labor will gain 60 seats Prime Minister MacDonald is making every effort to survive the crisis at the end of the month.

LA FOLLETTE PLANS MAY BE REVISED

Washington, October 3.—Advisable for arranging Senator La Follette's western tour that he will have to make a shorter and less costly tour than his original plan.

Mr. La Follette will set out from Washington in a private car with an observation platform which would make it possible for him to make brief addresses from the rear of his train.

Plane Launched in Mid-Air From Dirigible in Air Games

Achievement Hailed by General Patrick as Demonstration of New War Use for Aircraft.

Dayton, Ohio, October 3.—(By the Associated Press)—Characterized by Major General Mason M. Patrick, chief of the United States air service, as having written a new chapter in history was launched in midair at Willard Wright field today and got away under its own power. The experiment was carried on with a Sperry messenger plane, hooked on underneath the car of the army dirigible TC-5, as part of the "flying circus" program of the international air races.

It was intended to show primarily how in war-time dirigibles can transport planes. The plane is hooked on a trapeze and may attach itself back on again. At Langley field recently a plane made contact with a dirigible for three minutes, but it was not hooked.

Turned Loose at 2,500 Feet.

The dirigible let loose of its freight at 2,500 feet. Nose diving for a short tors of 19.7 horsepower in the Dayton Daily News' light airplane contest. Johnson won, traveling an average speed of 64.7 miles an hour. The "bathtub" went around the 25-mile course at the rate of 50.1 miles an hour.

50 Miles on Gallon.

Dormoy's plane, constructed and designed by him, travels fifty miles on a gallon of gasoline. It has no fuselage, and the fuel tank is up under the wing, there being no other place for it. Contrasted to the heavy "bathtub" is the lightness of other aircraft that were up during the day, the two midgets presented an unusual appearance as they rocked along, their small motors barking.

New Model Record Set.

Setting of a new world's record for model planes, the thrilling last minute loss of a race by Pilot Charles S. (Casey) Jones, of Garden City, N. Y., and competition between "flying bathubs" of the day's program which was witnessed, according to unofficial estimates, by a crowd of between 20,000 and 30,000 automobiles parked on the field numbered 24,000.

Easily of first interest was the race between the "flying bathtub" of Etienne Dormoy, technical engineer of McCook field, and J. M. Johnson, of the Johnson Aircraft and Supply company, Dayton, both powered by monitors of 19.7 horsepower in the Dayton Daily News' light airplane contest.

Johnson's ship started right off at more than fifty miles an hour gain, the average the first lap was 54.3.

The second lap was done at the rate of 58.9 miles an hour; the third 62.9 miles, the fourth the same, finishing with a cumulative average for the day of 64.07 miles an hour.

Model Stays Up 10 Minutes.

The "Bath Tub's" first lap was done at the rate of 35.7 miles an hour; the second, 46.7; third, 49.7; fourth, 38.4, and the fifth, 41.1.

The chief object of the small plane race was to show what progress is being made to develop ships that will carry more weight per horsepower.

Robert V. Jaros, of the University of Chicago, representing the Model Aero club of Illinois, had the highest speed recorded for model airplanes.

In competition for the Multihull trophy, a model constructed by him remained in the air for ten minutes, 14-2.10 seconds. The best previous record, made in England, was 3.5 minutes. Jaros' tiny monoplane traveled a mile and a half, compared to the former record of 6,000 feet, first set in the Multihull race.

Within 30 Seconds of Victory.

"Casey" Jones, flying a Curtiss Oriole, was within 30 seconds of winning the speed end of the aviation town and country club of Detroit trophy race and a prize of $1,000. He took two $1,000 prizes yesterday.

After he had averaged a speed of 122.5 miles on his seventh lap, Jones' plane, forced down by engine trouble, within 30 seconds flying time of the Home Pylon.

The winner, Basil L. Rowe, Allaben, N. Y., flying an SVA three-seater, maintained an average speed of 114.5 miles an hour.

The other event on the program, the British trophy of Cupid, which was won by Lieutenant D. M. Meyers of Phillips field, whose speed was 109.5 miles an hour. This was for Martin bombers, each carrying two 800-horsepower Liberty motors.

Interest tomorrow is centering on the Pulitzer race with the John L. Mitchell trophy race next in importance.

WALES TO BE GUEST AT HUNT IN BOSTON

Boston, October 3.—The Prince of Wales will be the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Bayard Tuckerman, Jr., at their home in Hamilton, for two days when the prince leaves Canada on his return to England. His entertainment will include chiefly a hunt with the Myopia Hunt club of which the Tuckermans are leading members. The date of the visit is still to be decided.

The announcement that the invitation had been extended and accepted was released yesterday through the British ambassador in Washington. The acquaintance of Mr. and Mrs. Tuckerman with the prince goes back to the winter of 1922-23, when they hunted with him in Leicestershire, England. Since that meeting, the prince has expressed great interest in the Myopia club and it is understood that it was principally his desire to follow the hounds across the beautiful north shore country that led to his acceptance of the invitation.

It was stated that Sir Esme Howard, the British ambassador, had not yet been informed as to the exact date of the arrival of the prince nor the full details of the itinerary of his return trip through the United States.

As the prince is scheduled to visit Chicago October 13, and Detroit on October 15, Mr. Tuckerman expects him at Hamilton about October 20. His stay will probably not exceed two or three days.

The Tuckerman house, a rambling brick mansion, stands on an eminence on the big estate which includes Dodge fields, said to be the best riding grounds in the Myopia country. The house was completed last year at a cost of $1,000,000.

The Myopia Hunt club, the home of the Myopia club, which has been drawn to the north shore for years, the enthusiastic supporters of the sport in this country, is in the midst of a rolling stretch of countryside that affords all the thrills required by the huntsman, including many stone fences and water jumps.

WOMAN SOUGHT AND NEGRO HELD IN ARSON PROBE

Macon, Ga., October 3.—(Special) Millard E. Dennis, negro, was arrested and a warrant for Mrs. C. A. Cunningham, wife of a former city recorder and widely-known Macon lawyer, was issued in an investigation of the burning of a house owned by Mrs. Cunningham in the Bellevue section of Bibb county. Both are accused of arson, the negro having signed a confession that he was promised $100 by Mrs. Cunningham if he set fire to the house.

Mrs. Cunningham, Macon several months ago, to reside in Fort Pierce, Fla., and the warrant was forwarded there today to be served on her. Dennis is now confined in Bibb county jail.

At the time the Cunningham house was burned, it was unoccupied, it was insured for $1,700, and the fire spread to an adjoining house owned and occupied by the family of M. A. Palmer. The Palmers, who purchased and furnished their place just prior to the fire, lost everything they had and barely escaped with their lives.

The investigation of the fire had been conducted here recently by a special agent for the national board of underwriters and J. Albert Sharp, state fire marshal, of Atlanta. Sometimes ago they notified the insurance company not to pay Mrs. Cunningham's claim pending an investigation.

During his confession today, he said he had not received the $100 he had been promised for setting the dwelling afire.

CONVICTED ROBBERS SENTENCED IN TAMPA

Tampa, Fla., October 3.—George B. White, who was sentenced yesterday to Albury to five, and R. D. Hogue, former finger-print expert, to five years in the state penitentiary by Judge Lee J. Gibson in criminal court today. White was tried and convicted while Hogue and Albury confessed and pleaded guilty to their parts in the robbery here Aug. 23 of A. C. Charkenbanker, $50,000. Each defendant received his sentence without emotion and without comment.

A motion for a new trial for White was overruled by Judge Gibson.

THE TRAFFIC TRAGEDIES.

An "epidemic of automobile accidents Thursday," as referred to in the news columns, was peculiarly fatal to small children, three of the victims having been two, four and six years of age respectively. Three others ranged in ages from seven to twelve.

From the news accounts it is also learned that this epidemic, "flaring awfully," has startled the police department into reinauguration of the rigid traffic rules enforced several weeks ago, immediately following the tragic death of former Postmaster Hugh L. McKee."

It is just as well to be perfectly frank about the deplorable traffic situation in and around Atlanta.

There has been no "new" epidemic of automobile accidents. The bad fact is the epidemic has been,
with brief exception, a day-in-and-out,
week-in-and-out and year-in-and-out situation.

For a few weeks following the recent activity of the police department in rigidly enforcing traffic rules there was a decided change for the good. Many lives and limbs no doubt were spared by that spirited and more-than-normal police alertness.

And then the police department fell back into its old routine, and
the reckless driving, and illegal parking, and various and sundry other traffic violations began again
as lively and as menacingly as ever;
and the situation today is no better
and no worse than the normal.

There are two or three pertinent thoughts in this connection—

Why should the police department wait until some outstanding tragedy, or the death of some one occurred who has a strong personal appeal, to stiffen up its enforcement orders?

Why should an especial police eruade be put on one week to be followed by another week of only normal activity?

If conditions demand a spurt of law enforcement following a tragicdy, do they not demand a continuance of the same activities, all the time, to prevent a tragedy?

There is neither sense nor reason in the enforcement of law by a system of "drives."

Such "drives" have their reaction in periods of laxity and the good that is accomplished one week is overcome by the bad that ensues another.

The duty of the police department is to enforce the law actively, rigidly, unafraidly, all the time.

The life of the humblest man who walks the streets of Atlanta is just as sacred and just as dear to some one as the life of the most distinguished citizen who helps to make Atlanta the great city that she is.

It is the duty of the police department of Atlanta to so enforce the traffic laws that the one shall be protected as much as the other, not one day or one week, but every day and every week.

The point is, the laws are made to be enforced, and there is no justification for zig-zag seasons of hectic, spasmodic flurries, with their reactions, in the enforcement.

What the people want is rigid traffic law enforcement all the time.

It is distressing that among the victims in the past few hours there have been several children. But every accident is distressing.

As much as is humanly possible, properly systematized, all-the-year police efficiency . . . to enforce laws, these street tragedies, involving young and old alike,

should be prevented—not merely next week, with the pendulum swinging the other way during the week to follow, but this week, next week, every week.

If the unusual police activity follows the tragic death of Mr. Mc-Keon was resultful of good, why was it stopped?

Why has it become necessary to
"reinaugurate" law enforcement?

THE SOUTHEASTERN FAIR.

The Southeastern fair will open its gates at Lakewood today for what promises to be one of the most successful seasons in its history.

The exhibits of farm and orchard products, live stock, domestic science and arts—everything of the nature to interest, instruct, entertain and educate the visitor to the resourcefulness of the up-to-date farmer, and the smart, intelligent housewife, are perhaps better and more evenly balanced than they ever have been before.

The manufacturers' exhibit, including cultivating and harvesting machinery, automobiles, engines, buggies, wagons and so on, are more extensive than heretofore.

The amusement features, including racing, shows, riding devices, etc., have been planned on a larger and more entertaining scale than heretofore.

Indeed, every feature of this year's fair has been most carefully worked out, and the whole coordinated into an exposition that would reflect credit as a great regional undertaking of that nature.

With good prospects for fair weather; with Georgia at the threshold of a new and prosperous era; with conditions ideal for a successful fair, there is no doubt that thousands of visitors from out of the city will join with other thousands of Atlantans in taking advantage of this great educational and amusement opportunity.

PECAN GROWERS' MEETING.

The National Pecan Growers' Association held its annual convention
this week at Cuthbert, Ga.

Delegates were present from most of the states of the Union that commercially grow this favored nut.

The discussions, engaged in by experts, ran the gamut of every conceivable problem connected with the industry, from the planting of the grove and the maturing of the same, to the harvesting and marketing of the nuts.

The various insect enemies, and how to combat them, came in for a share of consideration, and this is most important, for like every other farm or orchard commodity production, success is only obtained by systematic and proven methods of cultivation, coupled with care, caution and hard work.

That pecan culture's a great and important unit in Georgia's system of balanced agriculture is well known.

In southwest Georgia, where the industry has been most encouraged, it is one of the most inviting fields.

There may be an off-year occasionally, as is this year in some sections of the pecan belt, but on the whole the reaction is usually a favorable one, and next year will probably see greater production than ever in the territory that has this year suffered an under production.

Editor McIntosh, in The Albany

Herald, says he has never been able to decide which is the more numerous tribe—the fellows who would like to show the country how to run the government or those who think they could improve the Lord's system of regulating the weather.

HOME'S PROMISED LAND.

The Tifton Gazette says that if the Albany Herald reported is to be believed, two Issac Womans will be found in much water they could find no fish, and started home. A hawk flew over and was shot down, and a live fish fell with him. Another hawk passed over and, and another fish fell with him. The Albany plan would seem to be, when you can't catch them out of the water, shoot them out of the air.

PECAN-growing successfully and remuneratively in Georgia, in the soil zones peculiarly adapted to the same, is by no means an experiment and millions of dollars are profitably invested in this state in this branch of orcharding.

And then the police department
fell back into its old routine, and
the reckless driving, and illegal
parking, and various and sundry
other traffic violations began again
as lively and as menacingly as ever;
and the situation today is no better
and no worse than the normal.

HILL JURY FAILS TO REACH VERDICT

Failing to reach a verdict after deliberating for 20 hours, the jury hearing the case of Robert Hill, Macon negro, charged with criminal assault, was discharged by Judge John D. Humphries in Fulton superior court Friday morning. The mistrial was declared at 11 o'clock, 20 hours after the case went to the jury.

Hill received a life sentence several months ago after he had been tried for the murder of J. W. Culpepper. The murder is said to have been committed in September, 1923.

Culpepper was in an automobile with a young woman at the time he was slain. The young woman is said to have been attacked after her companion was slain and later identified Hill.

Due to feeling in Bibb county the negro was granted a change of venue and the case was shifted to Atlanta.

Baptist Women Meet.

Lyons, Ga., October 3.—(Special) The Baptist Woman's Missionary union of this district met at the Baptist church here today. An elaborate program was carried out. A luncheon was served at the church.

A THREE DAYS' COUGH IS YOUR DANGER SIGNAL

Chronic coughs and persistent colds lead to serious lung trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with twofold action; it soothes and relieves inflamed membranes and kills the germs.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by the medical fraternity as the greatest healing agency for the treatment of chronic coughs and colds and other forms of throat and lung troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing agents which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and destroys the germs that lead to consumption.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of chronic coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, cerebral bronchitis and other forms of throat and lung diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or the flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold, no matter of how long standing, is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. Creomulsion Co., Atlanta, Ga.—(adv.)

WESLEY MEMORIAL PASTOR WILL USE ELECTRIC DISPLAY

Dr. Marvin P. Williams, pastor of Wesley Memorial Methodist church, will illustrate his Sunday Sunday night with specially-arranged decorations and lighting effects, it was announced Friday. A rainbow will be produced to illustrate the message of the sermon, which is drawn on Genesis chapter 9, the account of the setting of a rainbow in the clouds as a covenant between God and the earth.

The use of electric arrangements of this nature is decidedly new in the south and the Sunday night service promises to be an interesting one, members stated.

The congregation of Union Congregational Tabernacle, which at present is without a pastor, will listen to Dr. Williams' sermon over radio, it was announced.

OFFICERS FOIL PLAN TO FLY POLICE CELLS

An attempted jail delivery, which if consummated would have opened the way to freedom for more than a score of inmates of the police barracks, was frustrated early Friday afternoon when two officers came upon two men as they sat at the last two bars of their cell.

The men who attempted to saw their way to liberty were R. W. Jones, 19, of Senoia, and Ernest Jarrell, 18, of Opelika, Ala. Jones was held on a warrant from Griffin and Jarrell on a blanket charge of suspicion.

Officers E. T. Cappell and A. S. Reid, who caught the men in the attempt for freedom, transferred the men to another cell and searched them for other instruments. Officers declared that it was possible that the saws had been smuggled into the police station.

WILMER PRESENTED WITH LOVING CUP

Resolutions expressing the appreciation of the vestry of Dr. C. B. Wilmer, rector of St. Luke's Episcopal church who is leaving Atlanta to take up new duties as professor of theology in the University of the South, Sewanee, Tenn., were adopted Sunday at a mass meeting of whites and negroes at Birn Bethel A. M. E. church.

Several addresses by white and colored people were heard at the meeting in which praise was given for the efforts Dr. Wilmer put forth in interracial movements. After adoption of resolutions Dr. Wilmer was presented with a silver loving cup by the regular program which took the picture will start at 9 o'clock.

The appearance of Billy Finkle at the Alpha matinee will please the children. The feature picture will be "Kingdom Come," a western drama with Pete Morrison. There will also be an episode of "Days of '49" and a Mack Sennett comedy called "One Cylinder Love."

HAROLD LLOYD COMEDY FOR CHILD'S MATINEE

"Why Worry?" Harold Lloyd's comedy at the Howard and Bill Finkle in person—Charlie Chaplin's double—at the Alpha will be the features of the children's matinee Saturday.

Besides the Lloyd picture there will be a Felix the Cat comedy called "Felix Loses Out," and an educational picture called "The Spirit of Lincoln." Due to the length of the regular program this will make the picture will start at 9 o'clock.

Hancock Explains Hike in Payroll In Reply to Sims

Increase in the September school payroll of $12,000 over that of last June 1 was due to an increase in the number of teachers required for junior high schools, it was explained Friday by John T. Hancock, president of the board of education, in an answer to a communication from Mayor W. A. Sims asking explanation of the increase.

"The explanation is entirely satisfactory," the mayor stated. "School enrollment has come down to a good sound basis, but the increased cost of finances of other city departments, and my communication was sent not as a criticism, but simply seeking an explanation. Mr. Hancock's answer explains the increase to my entire satisfaction."

The payroll probably will be increased because of the fact that Smith-Hughes classes and night school will be in full operation, while they were not during September. He also stated that practically all of such classes had been ended by May 1, and that the payroll submitted on June 1 was lessened on that account.

It had been anticipated that the September payroll would be $192,000, whereas it was only approximately $182,000, he pointed out.

EDUCATOR PRAISES OPPORTUNITY SCHOOL

Work done by the Atlanta Opportunity school receives high praise in a letter received by Willis A. Sutton, superintendent of schools, from E. W. Barnhart, chief of the vocational education service of the federal board of vocational education at Washington.

The school provides free courses in vocational training in practically any branch for persons employed or engaged in business, and so large a number have taken advantage of the offer that half of the classes are completely filled.

Mr. Barnhart's letter follows:

I want to tell you how well I have been pleased with the third annual report of the Atlanta Opportunity school. I want to congratulate you and your board on the excellent work you are doing and the great progress you are making.

TECH PLAYS V. M. I. IN SECOND GAME OF SEASON

Final Workout Staged Here By Cadets

BY GEORGE CONGDON.
Tech goes into its first real test of its 1924 strength today when the Tornado clashes with the Flying Squadron from Virginia Military Institute. Judging from the looks of V. M. I. in its light workout yesterday on Hermance field at Oglethorpe university, it will force out of Tech the best it has in both offensive and defensive work.

The regular varsity of lineup of both schools will start the affair.

V. M. I. brought 28 players here yesterday afternoon on a trip that held plenty of trouble for the Cadets. First, the promised connections near the start of the journey and were thrown into Atlanta just four hours later than they expected to arrive.

Workout Short.

The workout on Hermance field yesterday under the watchful eyes of Coaches Blandy Clarkson and Bill Raftery was necessarily short. The squadron ran a few signals, ran up and down, and practiced placement kicks for goal mainly.

While the Cadets were limbering up in the Oglethorpe stronghold, the Tech varsity was going through some light work on Grant field. The squad ran up under pants for about 15 minutes and then ran signals for about 45 minutes.

The lineups that will be started today probably will be as follows:

TECH.	Poss.	V. M. I.
Merkle	Watkins
Usty	Hope

Doug Wycoff, Tech fullback, and Windham White, the six-foot-three-inch fullback of the Flying Squadron, promise to make today's game a plunging battle with V. M. I. looking more of the possessor of which it is making a specialty. Passing practice yesterday at Oglethorpe, held on the side lines, showed V. M. I. men's ability to spiral the pigskin with unerring accuracy and catch it without signs of butter on the fingers.

Clarkson Pleased.

Coach Clarkson was quite satisfied with the work of his squad yesterday afternoon. He left the amount of work and length of practice largely to the big boys of his outfit and stood by with just a word now and then.

Coach Raftery was doing a little more than Coach Clarkson with the work on his team. He was giving most of his time to coaching the big man fullback in his punting. White will make a match for Wycoff in this part of the game as quickly as he will match the big Tech fullback in plunging through the line.

Tech probably will offer several new plays in carrying out its plan of the first big game of the season. The result will count in the season's end standings and Coach Alexander for a week has been devoting all his energies toward seeing to it that Tech is on top in the conference after the V. M. I. matter.

Likewise, V. M. I. will aware of the need of special practices to work up defensive combinations to thwart gains by the Squadron, has several new tricks in the bag it will open on Grant field this afternoon.

The game will start at 2:30 o'clock. Elcock, former Oglethorpe coach, will referee and Bill Strick of Birmingham, president of the Southern A. A. U., will act as umpire. The head linesman will be Bagley, former Washington and Lee quarterback.

"DADDY" AMIS' TEAM PILES UP BIG SCORE

Brownwood, Texas, October 3.—(Special)—The Howard Payne college Yellow Jackets, under Coach "Daddy" Amis, ran wild today, defeating the John Tarleton bunch 28-0, using every substitute and never having to open up any of their best plays.

Flying Squadron After Practice for Tech on Hermance Field

Photograph by Mathewson & Price, Staff Photographers.

Important Grid Battles Are Scheduled for Today

With the September season of discontent in football made glorious by the advent of October, today will bring battles of gridiron gladiators in which almost anything can, and doubtless will, happen. The pushovers and set-ups in football are usually restricted to a single game as a warming up process and in most cases these were disposed of last Saturday. Many of the games today will bring real contests, "you pay your money and takes your choice," with one guess as good as another in advance shots at the probable score.

Additional interest is found in an already hectic early season schedule by the invasion of the east by southern teams today. Four evelens have folded their tents and started a trek eastward that will cover many miles before it is ended. Two others make shorter but no less interesting journeys, the one to the north and the other to the regular route of southern teams.

Meanwhile Coach Meahan of the Orange forces, will send his varsity men through a stiff signal drill this afternoon, winding up one of the hardest weeks of practice given the Syracuse squad this season. Long sessions will end on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, designed to instill a fighting spirit into the team and smooth over many of the defects apparent in the initial game of the season with Hobart.

It is obvious from the work of the Orange squad during the week that a little better training considerably from the one of last year will be needed in against the southerners. Both Waldorf, tackle, and Bowman, back, neither of whom saw duty in the initial tilt, are fully recovered from minor ailments and are ready for the call tomorrow.

Hobart, sophomore who played in Waldorf's place, will likely be called back to his guard position, pairing with Biggs. Starbin will play the other tackle with Hanson and Nobis, who showed to advantage against Hobart, as starters again in the wing backs. Rugg, another leading end candidate, who is recovering from a leg injury, will probably see part time duty.

Although Carr, Clarke and Flanagan, the trio of sophomores whom Meahan started against Hobart, have been used consistently in the week's scrummage sessions, it is likely that Bowman, Foley and McBride will be started behind Captain Simmons at North Carolina State, hailed as much stronger than last year, plays Penn State at State College and North Carolina supporters of the Raleigh outfit believe game will be close. It was no walkover last year.

The Virginia team, down in Maryland for games, William and Mary visiting Annapolis for a set-to with the Navy while Randolph-Macon is at Baltimore to meet Johns Hopkins.

A tall Tennessee affair is booked for Chattanooga, where the university bearing the city's name takes on Cumberland, and another at Sewanee, where Carson-Newman furnishes the opposition to the Purple Jungaleer with a matter of a no-decision contest last year to be considered.

Two Virginia teams down in Maryland for games, William and Mary visiting Annapolis for a set-to with the Navy while Randolph-Macon is at Baltimore to meet Johns Hopkins.

The Williamsburg ladies scored on the Middies last year, Randolph-Macon and Johns Hopkins are meeting for the first time in several years.

Good Southern Battle

In the south some battles royal are expected, six conference members meeting in important games and an other conference eleven taking on a non-conference aggregation apt to make an exceedingly interesting afternoon. Final ratings are hanging in the balance in spite of the fact that the season is barely open with the door still ajar.

The Flying Cadets from Lexington, Va., are in Atlanta to meet Georgia Tech, with the game regarded in advance as an even choice. The University of South Carolina goes to class. Athens plays the University of Georgia and Ward gamblers expected. On their last meeting in Columbia the Bulldogs displayed an overwhelming edge, but the Gamecocks are said to have greatly improved since then. Clemson's Tigers meet the Plainsmen of Auburn on their own home ground in an effort to get a decided in the resumption of hostilities from last year when neither could score.

The game between Birmingham-Southern and Vanderbilt, at Nashville, is expected to prove a severe test for the Commodores, the Panthers showing much strength against Auburn. Tennessee and Florida open their season today, the Volunteers playing Emory and Henry and the Gators meeting the Gators.

EXPRESS

Boys

Girls

It's Easy

THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION makes it possible for thousands of boys and girls in Georgia and especially the city of Atlanta and suburbs to possess The "Constitution Express."

This smooth - running, balloon - tired COASTER WAGON wins its way into the heart of every child that sees it. It's the dandiest COASTER WAGON ever given away by any newspaper. It has a large-sized hardwood body (16x36 inches) finished with glistening varnish and brilliant paint. Heavy steel bolsters front and rear are extra braced. Silent running roller bearings and extra heavy single disc wheels make this the fastest and handsomest COASTER WAGON that you have ever seen. Tires are solid rubber and are of the full one-inch balloon type.

Strong---Swift---Silent

You cannot surpass this handsome "CONSTITUTION EXPRESS" wagon for strength and durability. No old-fashioned wood bolsters to split and crack—The "CONSTITUTION EXPRESS" has bolsters of heavy steel. Wheels have roller bearings, just like the big automobiles, and the full one-inch balloon-type tires make the coaster whiz by almost without a sound.

Read These Instructions:

New subscriptions must be from persons not at present subscribers to the Daily and Sunday Constitution, nor have been for the last thirty days, and must not, directly or indirectly, take the place of some one who is now or has been a recent subscriber.

Such new subscriptions will be acceptable in Atlanta and in any town where The Constitution has a carrier delivery service, provided the new subscriptions are acceptable to the carrier.

CLIP THE COUPON
And bring or mail it to-day for a Contest Book

ONLY 4 NEW {Daily and Sunday} SUBSCRIPTIONS NEEDED

HOW TO EARN ONE

If you want one of these beautiful "CONSTITUTION EXPRESS" wagons, the first thing to do is to clip out the coupon at the left, bring or mail it to The Constitution for a Contest Book. When you get the book, if "Dad" isn't a subscriber to the Daily and Sunday Constitution, get his subscription first and then you will need three more.

FOUR DAILY AND SUNDAY NEW SIX-MONTHS' SUBSCRIPTIONS.

That's all! Just four new Daily and Sunday six-months' subscriptions are required to earn one of these beautifully finished "CONSTITUTION EXPRESS" wagons. You are not to collect any money.

IT'S EASY WORK!

It will take you only a short time to get four new subscribers to The Constitution, because every one knows that The Atlanta Constitution is Atlanta's outstanding newspaper. Besides helping you earn your "CONSTITUTION EXPRESS," the people who sign the agreement or contract for you are receiving the news of the world, interesting reading articles and features for every member of the family for six months.

Start right out now! It's more like fun than work. Get a contract book, secure from good, reliable, financially responsible subscribers, "signature of each," bring or send it to The Constitution office. After the subscriptions are verified and found "O. K.," the wagon is yours.

Read These Instructions Carefully:

Out-of-town workers must turn their coupon book of subscriptions, after it has been filled out with the required number of subscriptions, each signed by the subscriber himself, over to the local Constitution dealer for his acceptance of the new subscriptions.

Newsdealer will indicate his acceptance by writing on the back of the subscription agreement "O. K., accepted by me," and sign his name. Then the book with required number of accepted subscriptions to be sent to The Constitution.

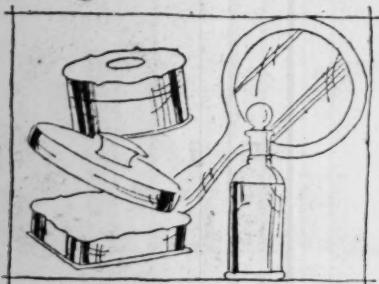

COASTER WAGONS will be shipped by express (collect) to out-of-town workers. Those who live in Atlanta and suburban towns will get the wagons at The Constitution office.

Colleges, Teas and Dances Claim Society's Attention

With fall ushering in the beginning of school and college life, attention is immediately claimed by the affairs of fraternities, and always, the pledges to the different ones are received with much enthusiasm. To the younger social set of Atlanta their dances, teas and other plans are of the greatest interest.

The dinner-dances at the different clubs, and teas at the Biltmore hotel and fraternity houses, vie in favor with the dancing contingent of Atlanta as a final wind-up of the week's gaieties.

Anticipated Yuletide festivities are enhanced by the announcement of the date of the lovely debut ball, when Mr. and Mrs. Lucien Harris will present their charming debutante daughter to society at a dance to be given at the Piedmont Driving club on Friday evening, December 12.

Inter-Fraternity Dance.

The plans being made by the various fraternities and organizations of Georgia Tech for the festive social season are each year of greatest interest to the college set.

The largest of these affairs will be the dance, to be given Friday evening, January 9, by the members of the inter-fraternity council.

This dance will be given at one of the social clubs and will be attended by many visiting belles and members of Atlanta's college contingent.

Officers of the council include Marthanne Sanders, president; Nesbit Mays, vice-president; Walter Godwin, secretary; Hugh Saussy, treasurer.

Representatives from the various fraternities include:

Chi Phi—Hugh Saussy and W. P. Stubbs.

Kappa Alpha—George Wheaton and Owen Poole.

Theta Chi—Joe Palmisano and Charles Walker.

Psi Sigma Kappa—A. L. Bartlett and William Ware.

Delta Sigma Phi—W. H. Turner and W. N. Crowder.

Pi Kappa Alpha—W. L. Johnson and Gus Merkle.

Delta Tau Delta—D. B. Howe and L. F. Gate.

Beta Theta Pi—F. E. Carlton and F. C. Conner.

Sigma Phi Epsilon—Al Holder and Lonnie Lyda.

Kappa Sigma—Herbert Hutton and W. R. Fair.

Sigmas Chi—Marthanne Sanders and Tom Goodloe.

Alpha Tau Omega—Walter Godwin and John Ware.

Phi Delta Theta—Soren Enloe and Arthur Edge.

Sigma Nu—Nesbit Mays and Alton McNeil.

Pi Kappa Phi—Arthur Boazman and Marcus Cook.

Psi Kappa Sigma—J. E. Pearson.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon—William F. Spilling, Jr., and Ivan Williams.

Chi Psi—Carey Boyle.

S. A. E.'s To Give Dance.

The S. A. E. fraternity will give a dance at their chapter house following the Tech-Alabama football game on October 25. This dance will also be a compliment to the S. A. E. pledges.

Theta Chi's To Give Dance.

The informal house dance at which the members of the Alpha Nu chapter of the Theta Chi fraternity of Georgia Tech will entertain Friday evening, October 10, at their chapter house on West North Avenue will be an interesting event.

The dance is to be given in honor of the sponsors for the University of Florida football team, Miss Jennie De Sims, of Agnes Scott college, and Miss Anna Price, of the State Normal School, who are the most popular members and his marriage to Miss Georgia Byrd will be a highlight event of October 8 in Lawrenceville.

Stanley Hastings was toastmaster at the dinner.

Catholic Club To Give Benefit.

The card party that was postponed from Saturday, September 27, for the benefit of the Atlanta Catholic Club of Business and Professional Women, will take place this afternoon, October 4, at the home of Mrs. T. W. Dealy, 49 Howell place, West End.

Bridge Party Honors Mrs. Hugh Ellison.

Mrs. Hugh Ellison, of Augusta, who has come to Atlanta to make her home, was delightfully entertained at a mid-week bridge-luncheon given in her honor by Mrs. U. T. Koch. Decorations were of lovely fall flowers and the attractive prizes were hand-made handkerchiefs.

The guests included Mrs. Thomas Akridge, Mrs. Howard Chafee, Mrs. Norman Sharp, Mrs. James Williams, Mrs. James Lynch, Mrs. A. C. Pilcher and Mrs. Burton Gause.

Miss Ellen Newell To Be Complimented.

Among the interesting affairs to be given in compliment to the debutantes of this season will be the luncheon of the Alpha Nu chapter of the Theta Chi fraternity from Florida.

DINNER STORIES

Two men with the same name were members of a certain club. One day a letter addressed to one of them was left at the club. The wrong man opened it first. It was a dun from a tailor.

He knew the missive did not belong to him, so he put it back in the letter rack.

The next night both men happened to come to the club at the same time. Both went to the letter rack, the man for whom the letter was intended reaching it first.

He read the epistle very carefully. Then he tore it into bits, which he tossed carelessly into a waste paper basket.

"Poor little girl!" he said. "How she loves me!"

Johnnie was gazing at his week-old brother, who lay squealing and yelling in his cot.

"Has he come from Heaven?" inquired Johnnie.

"Yes, dear."

"No wonder they put him out."

"Last night, madam," said the American tourist, "you informed me that the Duke of Wellington once stayed in this hotel. Is it a fact?"

"It is, sir," beamed the landlady, "a solemn fact! He slept in the very room you had last night."

"Was it just the same as it is now?"

"Just the same."

"Same bed in it?"

"The very identical bed."

"And the Duke of Wellington slept in it—he actually slept in it!"

"Ain't that what I'm tellin' ye? He actually slept in the very bed ye 'ad last night."

"Great Caesar!" exclaimed the tourist. "No wonder they called him the Iron Duke!"

She will give specific formula for the cure and prevention of odds for the given. The inspirational poems "New Views of Life" and "The One Friend," will be interpreted.

Questions and answers pertinent to psychological problems will be a feature.

Both men and women who are interested in self-improvement, success and happiness are invited to attend.

CHILEAN WOMEN LEAD IN MANY PROFESSIONS

Men of the United States who would be distressed over the fact that women are rapidly becoming the mainstay of the barber profession and other business assuming roles which in the past have been associated with purely domestic citizens, might find solace in the announcement of Sen. David Benjamin Cohen, secretary of the Chilean embassy, in Atlanta as an official representative of his country to the Pan-American congress, that women of Chile are now and have been for some time carrying out the tasks which American women are still generally assigned to.

Women in Chile, Senor Cohen declared, daily work as street car conductors, druggists, dentists, doctors, lawyers and in some instances are entrepreneurs.

The movement received its impetus in 1879, in which year Chile was engaged in a war with Peru. In view of its small population, women have served in their places, he declared.

Senor Cohen pointed out that the majority of students in professional colleges of his country are women.

AFTER AN OPERATION

Mrs. Wilke Couldn't Get Back Her Strength Until She Took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Rochester, Minn.—"I had a very serious operation and it seemed as if I could not get my health back after it. I suffered with pain almost constantly. My sister came to help take care of me, and she was taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for nervousness and a run-down condition. She had me try some of it, and in a very few days time I began to feel better. In two weeks I hardly knew myself and after taking a couple of bottles more I was up and helping around, and now I am strong and healthy again and am still taking it. It is a pleasure for me to write this to you, and I hope that many other women are suffering like I was and find out about your medicine. I will give you any information I possibly can." —Mrs. JAMES WILKE, 933 E. Center Street, Rochester, Minnesota.

Remember, the Vegetable Compound has a record of fifty years of success among American women. Lydia E. Pinkham's Private Text-Book will be sent you free upon request. Write to the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Company, Lynn, Mass.

The Constitution's Patterns

A DAINTY HOUSE OR DAY DRESS.

4886. House and home duties will be pleasant in frock such as is here portrayed. It will make a splendid business dress in wool crepe or silk poplin, with trimmings of morning girdle in printed crepe or gingham with contrasting material for the bosom, collar, cuffs and pockets.

The pattern is cut in six sizes: 34, 36, 38, 40, 42 and 44 inches bust measure. To make the dress for a 38-inch size, as illustrated, will require 4 1/4 yards of plain material and 3 1/4 yard of piping material, 32 inches wide. The width at the foot with plaited extended in 2 1/4 yards.

Pattern mailed to any address on receipt of 10c in silver or stamps.

A SIMPLE FROCK.

4821. Collar and cuffs of this neat model are of checked cotton and yellow poplin, the frock and sleeves are of yellow poplin. This is a good style for chailie, poplin or linen. It could also be batiste with collar and cuffs of embroidery.

The pattern is cut in four sizes: 2, 4, 6 and 8 years. A 2-year size requires 2 1/2 yards of 37-inch material. For collar and cuffs of contrasting material 3 1/2 yard is required.

Pattern mailed to any address on receipt of 10c in silver or stamps.

:: The Luxury of Love ::

BY VIOLET DARE

XLII—WITH HOPE AHEAD.

Mary dined on sardines and crackers that evening, supplemented by tea. She had eaten many a long and elaborate dinner with less appreciation, however; this simple meal that she prepared for herself, eaten in her little living room that she had just set in order, tasted much better than the high-priced chefs employed by her friends.

"I could really learn to cook if I had a chance," she told herself thoughtfully. "And I'd make a good housekeeper, because I like making a home. Oh, won't I ever come into my own?"

A curious cry for "Lovely Mary Howard," the famous American beauty.

The next day she set about finding Camilla Waite and the Atwoods. Camilla was out of town, making a round of visits, she was informed; she was to be with the Atwoods the following week, but in the meantime there were house parties on her lists, saying that mail could be forwarded to the Beach Club and she would pick it up there.

Mary telephoned the Atwoods' town house and was told that they were staying at the club.

"Then that's the place for me," she decided. She felt happier than she had been in a long time. She began to sort out and pack her belongings. Her clothes had suddenly begun to look forlorn, almost shabby, as clothes have a way of doing when one season is just ending and another is about to begin. And Mary's gowns were all extreme, so far as fashion was concerned; Nigel had liked them.

She looked through the few things she had brought with her, and then sorted them out and looked again. She would not stay at the club; she need not only long enough to straighten out with Camilla and see her could come back to New York and look for work; it wouldn't matter then if she was unfashionably dressed!

But now—she looked over her clothes again, and finally decided on a street dress of dark blue cloth, emblazoned in pink and white. The skirt was deeply slashed, and had been worn over a slip of fine white broadcloth. Mary ripped out the white slip and substituted a black one. Her sailor scarf, a small hat, beige hose, and gloves, and fine Shetland veil to keep off the dust while traveling—now the light blue bag was discarded, and the gold-tipped bottles to be refilled with toilet water and an antiseptic lotion that was fresh and pungent smelling—she made her preparations swiftly, almost automatically. Her thoughts centered on Camilla. What would Camilla say to this? "I'm requesting that you tell the truth that she had guarded so tenaciously?

Mary felt sure, somehow, that Camilla would. She refused to remember that Camilla was selfish, and would hesitate at nothing to protect her. Mary felt that her only salvation lay in believing the best of Camilla Waite.

She walked to the train, and ghosts of herself as she had been in the old days. She saw herself walking briskly along Fifth Avenue with Camilla when they had been debutantes, tremulously arm-in-arm with the resolute, jubilant, interested in the future. Camilla had declared that she was going to marry a title—a declaration urged on, no doubt, by the fact she was not at all popular with the young men at home. It was Mary about whom they talked. Mary had been good friends in those days, because Mary had been able to do so much for her friend.

And there had been other walks. Walks with Neale Phillips, who delighted in sauntering along with "Lovely Mary," and pausing suddenly, to rush into a jeweler's and buy her the huge emerald or fine platinum

With the Women of Today

By Mrs. Lillian Campbell.

Most men would hesitate to penetrate the jungles of the interior of Africa, where wild beasts and deadly fevers abound. Hostile tribes of savages are a constant menace to explorers. Yet it is into just such a region that Mrs. Delia J. Akeley is going.

It will not be her first experience in tropical countries, since she has accompanied her husband, Carl Akeley, the noted explorer, on expeditions.

This time she will make the trip alone. She plans to live on the "dark continent" for a considerable period of time in order to learn the ways of the natives.

Living with a half civilized or savage tribe isn't what might be termed an "easy" job, yet Mrs. Akeley is looking forward to it with anticipation. This seems to set aside the oft-heard declaration that women are "the weaker sex."

Miss Margaret Edwards, confined in the Joliet, Ill., penitentiary, serving an indeterminate sentence for perjury, quotes her as making Braille books for blind soldiers. She has been taught transcribing of Braille by a member of the Chicago chapter Red Cross. According to records of Miss T. Rider, in charge of the room for the blind in the library of congress, Miss Edwards worked in her prison for nearly a year, and subsequently was released.

Miss Edwards was used for design. Armscye, neck and pockets are faced with contrasting material edged with rick-rack braid. This is a good model for gingham or unbleached muslin. The back is cut with strap extensions that are crossed at the center and fastened in front, where they form a belt, which holds the flossiness in place.

The pattern is cut in four sizes: Small, 34-36; Medium, 38-40; Large, 42-44; Extra Large, 46-48 inches bust measure. A Medium size requires 5 1/4 yards of 27-inch material.

Pattern mailed to any address on receipt of 10c in silver or stamps.

Dates for a "milk drive" next year have been tentatively set for March 2 to 7, it was announced Friday by Miss Jessie Hoover, milk utilization expert of the dairy division of the United States Department of Agriculture, who will direct the campaign. The city dairy department has pledged its cooperation in a campaign to increase the daily consumption of milk and exhibits will be shown to demonstrate the food value of milk. Success in similar campaigns in other cities has been reported, it was stated by H. C. Martin, director of the laboratory of hygiene of the city health department.

STOCK PRICES REACT SHARPLY ON POLITICAL SCARE

Attack on Coolidge Brings Flood of Selling Orders

New York, October 3.—Stock prices reacted sharply in today's market on what was widely described as "political scare." Recessions in standard issues ran from 1 to 2 1/2 points with losses of 3 to 5 1/2 points in some of the high-priced specialties.

Senator Brookhart's speech attacking President Coolidge provided bear traders with an excuse for getting out on the general list, this selling being augmented by the extensive liquidation of pools and professional traders, apparently prompted by a desire to lighten their commitments pending final indications of the drift of political events.

Community markets again attracted the major interest of the speculative element. Further advances in wheat and rye were followed by extensive profit-taking sales, bringing about substantial recessions from the high prices.

There was nothing in the day's trade news to account for the selling of securities. The weekly mercantile reviews reported further irregularities, but stated that the main trend of business was upward with the decline in September commercial failures the largest in several years. The trading companies advanced the price of heavy Standard crude from 25 cents a barrel. The American Woolen company announced the withdrawal of women's year worsted fabrics shown by two of its largest mills, the entire production for the spring season having been sold.

United States Steel common fluctuated within a range of about 1 point, closing 3 1/4 lower at 1,077 7/8. American Can, American Sugar Refining, Baldwin, Cuba, Case preferred, DuPont, Studebaker, U. S. Cast Iron Pipe, U. S. Industrial Alcohol and United Copper were among the many lists hammered down 1 to 2 1/2 points.

Despite the marked heaviness of the general list nearly a dozen issues, most of them obscure specialties, attained new high prices for the year. They included Postum, Montgomery Ward, St. Joseph Lead, U. S. Hoffmann Machinery and Wells-Fargo.

COTTON STATEMENT.

New York, October 3.—Rallies from an opening decline in the cotton market today met increased offerings and prices broke under heavy realizing in the late trading, December contracts sold off from 25.81 to 25.00 and closed at that level. The cotton market reached a new decline of 70 to 80 points.

A good deal of realizing or selling for a reaction occurred from the start. First prices were already steady at a decline of 10 to 23 points and the market soon showed net losses of 28 to 42 points. October declined 10 to 26.10 and November to 25.50. The market then steadied on apprehensions of a renewal of unsettled weather in the south. Mid-morning rallies were promoted by private reports estimating the crop at only 11,847,000 bales and the condition at 53%.

Reports that exporters were buying spot cotton on an advance in the basis in the southwest was a factor and for a time the market showed considerable strength. October advancing to 26.96 and January to 25.89, or 6 to 15 points net higher. The demand for spot cotton, however, and the market became weak, especially in the afternoon under realizing or liquidation for over the weekend and the approaching government report. Prospects for warmer weather in the south over Sunday probably increased the disposition to take profits on the basis of the early fall crop figures discussed earlier in the day may have been modified by another private report estimating the condition of the crop at 53.6 and the indicated yield at 12,544,000 bales, based on the government's pars and acreage.

Other private reports were issued during the afternoon, one estimating the yield at 12,100,000 bales and the other at 12,039,000 bales, but the attention of traders appeared to be pretty much centered on the even-up of commitments.

October rose to 25.90 and January to 23.05 and the close was at about these figures.

Exports for the day were 16,533 bales, making 1,062,150 so far this season. Port receipts 33,263. United States port stocks 547,937.

SPOTS IN NEW YORK.

New York, October 3.—Cotton spot at NEW ORLEANS.

New Orleans, October 3.—The cotton market turned reactionary today, suddenly jumping to new high prices advanced to a new high level for the season. The subsequent recession carried December the most active trading month down 50 points from the high of the early trading and 65 points net lower. The rest of the active months showed net declines of 60 to 69 points.

The market, however, improved in the late trading when October traded down to 24.85, December to 24.95 and January at 24.93 or 80 to 85 points down from the early highs. The market closed at the bottom.

The important feature of the morning was the企动 of a fear of bad weather in the belt over the week end, and a bullish government report next week. Some of the private estimates issued during the day were not as low as the trade looked for and this started liquidation. The demand for spot cotton, however, was unimpaired by rather large mill takings for the week by Secretary Heester, 288,000 bales against 263,000 last year, but during the afternoon the market was compelled to absorb heavy liquidation, short and hedge selling and prices slumped off rapidly, the weakness being helped by lower stocks and prices.

Exports for the week were heavy, totaling 305,049 bales against 238,007 last year. The movement into sight totaled 530,704 bales against Express, General Motors 7 per cent preferred touched a new top at 99 1/4, while the new common sold at 59 1/2 a new low.

Selling pressure in the railroad group was directed chiefly against Lehigh Valley, which was forced to 90 1/2, off 1 3/4 on the day. Lackawanna selling ex dividend at $1.30, made up its dividend on the first sale, advanced to 140 and then fell back to 137. Losses of a point or more were also recorded by Rock Island, Atlantic Coast Line, Chicago, Great Northern, Chicago & North Western, Milwaukee, Mobile & Northern, New York, Ontario & Western, St. Louis Southwestern and Texas & Pacific.

S. Kresge took 10 1/4 points to 425 on one side. Consolidated of Baltimore, which enjoyed a sensational advance, ending at 1,020, fell back 5 1/2 points. Other weak spots were General Baking, Goodyear Tire preferred, Pierce Arrow preferred, Nash Motor and Rail Steel Suring, off 3 to 5 points. Fisher Body was one of the few new stocks gaining 3 1/2 points.

Call money rates at 2 1/2 percent all day. Time money displayed a firmer tone, and although rates held steady, offerings were in smaller volume. The commercial paper market was quiet, with rates unchanged.

Foreign exchange rates were firm with business quiet, except for a small rise in London, which should reflect the new high rates for the year.

They included Postum, Montgomery

Ward, St. Joseph Lead, U. S. Hoffmann Machinery and Wells-Fargo.

INTERNATIONAL BUSINESS MACHINES CORPORATION: According to President Watson doing the largest business in his life the company's new German factory, while still in the factory in Paris is about to commence operations. Mr. Watson expects a steady improvement in European trade which should result in a healthy growth for his company during 1925.

GOLD KEY CORPORATION: Expected to turn a profit this year amounting to about $100,000 on the common stock. A large portion of the company's earnings will come from the sale of its products in the first six months of the year. This will not due to any falling off in business, but rather to the fact that it has been able to make a profit on the company's heavy end-of-year earnings and reserve expenses.

Prices of public utility and industries were little changed.

Forbonds held relatively firm, with 5 1/2s and Dutch East Indies 2s of 1935 representing the chief of strength. Liberty bonds and refund 41 1/2s, seaboard refunding 4s, Indiana 4s and Northern Pacific 4s, which are held steadily.

Red Riding Hood

By ELIZABETH JORDAN

INSTALLMENT XVIII.

AROUSED IN THE MIDDLE OF THE NIGHT.

Dr. Phelps checked himself on a sudden realization that he was saying more than he had intended. It had been something of a relief to think things out audibly before this close-mouthed and understanding associate. "In my opinion, it's all nonsense," he summed up. "I don't believe any one on the footstool cares who they are or what they do."

"There's no evidence, then, of any nefarious activities?" Dr. Osborn inquired—bootlegging, gambling, anything of that sort?

"Not the slightest—unless you call an abnormal consumption of garlic a nefarious activity. You would, if you were in and out of that confounded house as much as I am. For the rest, the atmosphere of domestic virtue and peasant living is as unmistakable as the garlic. However, the situation has its compensations," he added in a more colorful tone. "They've bought up a lot of my time, and they pay cash for every visit. It's plain they've plenty of money."

The limousine stopped at the 38th street address, and Phelps got out. His gloom, which had lifted slightly with his last words, descended upon him again so palpably that the observer could almost see it fall.

Osborn grinned to himself as he rode away. Then the grin broadened into a chuckle. He was not an especially imaginative person, but a diverting vision had momentarily swung before him. It was Maud Schuyler's pink face, wearing the exact expression it would have taken on if she had been listening to Phelps and had realized that her latest protege was connected with his narrative. The picture so cheered Osborne that he bore with equanimity the discovery that he was exactly one hour and forty minutes late for his next appointment.

He paid no attention to her look of amazement.

ened into a chuckle. He was not an especially imaginative person, but a diverting vision had momentarily swung before him. It was Maud Schuyler's pink face, wearing the exact expression it would have taken on if she had been listening to Phelps and had realized that her latest protege was connected with his narrative. The picture so cheered Osborne that he bore with equanimity the discovery that he was exactly one hour and forty minutes late for his next appointment.

From the Metropolitan tower New York was receiving the flashed signal that it was midnight. Catching this as she hurried across Madison square, Hope simultaneously offered herself a flash of personal sympathy, an indulgence rare for her.

Tonight, however, she was tired to the soul. Her first week in the Schuyler menage had been even more strenuous than she had expected, and the afternoons with her co-laborers on East 70th street did not serve as restoratives. This day had been a particularly trying one in both places, but she would soon be in bed and, though it was almost too much to hope for, possibly sleep. She entered the big apartment house with a sigh of relief, and returned with a smile the blithe greetings of the youthful night elevator operator who had an eye for feminine beauty.

"Mr. Van Dorn's been askin' for you, Miss," he brought out after these amenities.

"Mr. Van Dorn?" Hope frowned. "When?"

"Jest a little while ago—not more'n ten minutes. He come in and for you, an' then he went off again."

"But what in the world could he have wanted?"

Hope was addressing space, but the elevator operator took the response upon himself.

"I don't know, Miss, but he seemed awful disappointed because you wasn't home. He had a cab at the door, an' he kep' it waitin' while he come in and ast for you. Then he went off in it again."

The tribute of the girl's growing surprise brought further revelations.

"He seemed kinda excited, as if somethin' was worryin' him," the operator now remembered.

"Then Mrs. Schuyler must be ill, or Mrs. Van Dorn. Take me up quickly, please."

"No, Miss." But the operator started the car. "No one ain't sick here," he added. "Mrs. Schuyler come home from the theater 'bout an hour ago, an' she thought the play was rotten."

Hope smiled. It was like Maud Schuyler to exchange dramatic chit chat with the night elevator boy. It would be like her, if she felt in the humor, to give the lad a brisk and admirable summary of the drama. Nevertheless, on reaching the ninth floor, Hope used her new latch key as swiftly as she could, and entered the private hall of the Schuyler apartment with some apprehension.

The hall's aspect was reassuring. All was silence and darkness, the latter cut only by the soft glow of the silk-covered electric bulb near the front door. She went on to her room with definite relief. A call to action at this hour, and after what might certainly be considered a full day, would have been met if it had come, but the thought of it had not been appealing.

She undressed, drew a small electric flashlight out of her handbag and laid it on the stand at the head of the bed—a precaution she always took in strange rooms. Then, lured by the mute invitation of the square white tub, she indulged in a deliberate and refreshing hot bath. It was almost 1 o'clock when, with a sigh of combined fatigue and content, she entered the chintz daybed and drew up the covers. Almost immediately she began to feel sleep stealing toward her. During recent months, as she had confessed to Osborne, she had often been afraid of sleep, on occasions had even deliberately kept it away; but tonight its approach was as comforting as shade after the glare of a hot sun. She lay blinking drowsily at the square of sky framed by the room's one window. The stars seemed close and friendly.

She was aroused by a sound outside of her door, a sound she must have heard for some minutes before her tired mind became sufficiently alert to recognize it as a soft but persistent tapping. She sat up blinking and trying to remember where she was. The tapping continued, and now it was mingled with another sound, the sound of a voice uttering low and urgent words.

"Miss Emerson! Miss Emerson! Wake up! Please wake up!"

She flashed on the light. The tapping ceased, but the voice grew more compelling:

"Hurry, please!"

She thrust her feet into slippers, threw on her bathrobe, and, unlocking the door, opened it an inch. Immediately it was pushed wide from the outside, and Jim Van Dorn strode across the threshold carrying something in his arms. He paid no attention to her look of amazement or to her startled exclamation as she stepped back. Instead, he bore his burden to the daybed and dropped it there without ceremony. This done, he straightened, drew a deep breath of relief, and turned to meet her incredulous eyes.

"Gee!" he muttered, "that was a close shave! I was so afraid Maud would hear us that my teeth chattered."

Hope's eyes turned to the figure on the bed. It was Sally Willis, in full evening dress, and hurriedly wrapped in a fur coat whose folds had slipped aside. Her eyes were closed and she breathed slowly and heavily. In the room's dim light her fluffy bobbed hair seemed to glow around her head. She looked small, helpless and oddly artificial as she lay there, her gold satin slippers protruding stiffly from the folds of the fur coat, the startling whiteness of her face emphasized by the rouge on her lips and cheeks. Gazing at her the observer seemed to see not a foolish and misguided young girl, but a mechanical doll that had suddenly run down and been tossed aside. Hope's eyes turned back to Sally's escort and that young man, leaning against the door, which in the interval he had closed, endeavored to meet them, and, failing, dropped his own eyes and looked wretched.

"How dared you bring her in here?" Hope asked in icy anger.

"Nowhere else to bring her, was there? Couldn't take her home in that state, could I? Couldn't take her to a hotel. Where the deuce could I take her?"

"You might have taken her into your sister's room," the secretary grimly suggested.

"I know. And never have heard the last of it. Just the same, that's what I meant to do till I thought of you!"

"Go now and get Mrs. Schuyler."

THE GUMPS—CRUDE OIL

MY DEAR FRIENDS AND TAX-PAYERS OF OKLAHOMA CITY—AS I STAND HERE SURROUNDED BY THE SPLENDID EVIDENCE OF YOUR MARVELOUS SUCCESS I WONDER IF YOU REALIZE THAT THE PROSPERITY OF THIS COUNTRY DEPENDS ON YOU GENTLEMEN AND YOUR WONDERFUL CITY—WITHOUT YOUR OIL WELLS THE FUTURE OF AMERICA WOULD BE AS DARK AND GLOOMY AS THE INSIDE OF AN UNDERTAKER'S HAT—

WITHOUT YOUR OKLAHOMA OIL OUR FACTORIES WOULD CLOSE, THE WHEELS OF INDUSTRY WOULD BECOME PARALYZED—EVEN OUR WATCHES WOULD CEASE TO RUN—I ASK YOU TO PAUSE A MOMENT AND REFLECT HOW MUCH OIL IS NEEDED IN THIS WORLD—WHAT WOULD OUR GREAT ARTISTS AND SARDINES DO WITHOUT OIL—WILL HAVE NO STEAMBOATS OR SALADS—OKLAHOMA CITY IS THE ATLAS OF MODERN TIMES.

SOME POLITICIANS HAVE USED YOUR FAMOUS OIL TO LUBRICATE THEIR WELL-OILED POLITICAL MACHINES—but I want your sacred oil to keep alight the fires of freedom—I AM NOT A SPOUTER OR A GUSHER—I AM JUST A PLAIN-SPOKEN MAN WHO HAS COME TO THANK YOU FOR THE MAGNIFICENT SUPPORT OF YOUR MARVELOUS CITY—I FEEL THAT IN WINNING THIS CITY TO MY STANDARD I HAVE WON THE KEY TO THE WHITE-HOUSE—FOR AS OKLAHOMA CITY GOES SO GOES THE NATION—

SIDNEY

He paid no attention to her look of amazement.

Art Not For "Art's" Sake.
She loved to do photography, she was its devoted devotee, and followed this delightful fad, as one for love and art gone mad. My heart she spurned, though every day more eager I my love to say.

More eager I my love to say. Now once by chance I met the miss, and fondly sought to win a kiss, in darkened room, as dark could be. Well suited to her art, you see, I thought perhaps one kiss she'd give, but no! she handed me her negative. —George W. Lyon.

WAHIBI TRIBESMEN MENACE AMMAN

Ban Shorn Locks On Coffin Models In Chicago Show

London, October 3.—While Zaghloul Pasha is conferring with Premier MacDonald on the Sudan issue, reports of disturbances in the Near East are causing increasing concern here, both because of their possible effects on British interests and the repercussions they may cause in the Mohammedan world.

Chief among these reports received in London Friday was one from Cairo declaring that King Hussein, the aged titular ruler of the Hedjaz, had abdicated in the face of the Wahibi advance on the Holy City of Mecca.

This found no confirmation, but the Wahibi tribesmen are hovering outside Mecca, which is almost deserted and quite defenseless.

Previous reports from the Hedjaz said that Hussein, with a handful of faithful guards, was preparing to defend his palace, if necessary.

Wahibis May Get Tired.

The fact that the Wahibis were making no attempt to enter the Holy City, despite the lack of anything to deter them, aroused some belief among officials here that the tribesmen might not enter at all. Frequently, it is pointed out, the Wahibis make such raids and then retire after a week or so of activity because of mere ennui.

According to official British word-of-mouth dispatches from Jeddah, 15,000 refugees have arrived there from Mecca, where a serious water shortage has set in. Most of the leading citizens of Mecca flew the city, with practically the sole exception of Hussein, according to this report.

Attack on Amman.

Of more direct interest to the British government are reports from the northern part of Asia Minor.

Twenty-six hundred squadrons of Wahibis, each consisting of 250 or 300 armed men, mounted on horseback, are moving toward Amman, the ancient capital of the Ammonites of Biblical fame, according to a dispatch from Jerusalem to the London Express. The inhabitants of Amman are preparing to flee en masse to Jerusalem, it is declared.

Will Not Quit Suez.

Britain's Mosul dispute with Turkey was again brought into the picture by an exchange telegrams to Paris and Constantinople supporting a clash between a force of Turks and a British airship squadron near Amman, the ancient capital of the Ammonites of Biblical fame, according to a dispatch from Jerusalem to the London Express. The inhabitants of Amman are preparing to flee en masse to Jerusalem, it is declared.

BY JOHN O'BRIEN.

Paris, October 3.—It is only in Montmartre, the topmost summit of Paradox, the hill that's easy to roll up and hard to climb down, that one could have seen the astonishing vision of the proprietor of a gambling den—strictly forbidden by law—supported by the police in his fight to prevent a rival gang from rushing the phane and establishing themselves therein.

But gambling dens are not always gambles dens—for the police. In this case it was merely the "commercial and financial club of Nancy." Law is law even when it decrees that "no gaming place shall be run within 100 kilometers of Paris." But an ordinance of the august city fathers of this same Paris decrees that "commercial and financial clubs" are perfectly permissible so long as 10 percent of the total sums that change hands there is handed over to the municipal treasury.

No Doubt of Pastimes.

Nobody is troubled with the slightest doubt about the particular enticement offered to the scores of wealthy "clients," whose luxurious cars are stationed for hours and hours outside the portals of the "commercial and financial club of Nancy," in the Rue Victor Massé, just a block from the Bal Tabarin, the only original "cabaret of the French Cancan." Therefore when Monsieur Marcel Bardaud, who had made a fortune practicing the profession of notary, acquired the place, it was not expected that he would open a law office there.

All went well until Messieurs Lautrec and Moreau, from whom the notary had purchased the place, accused him of withholding a promised percentage.

As Bardaud declined to still lessees of the building, obtained a court order closing it and stationed at the doors a score of husky hangers-on to make the order effective, Bardaud brought along his own gang of Brazilians, Bulgars, Rumanians, Poles, Spaniards and Egyptians and thus won a free-for-all reminding one of the days when Jerome, as New York's district attorney, was trying to stop gambling by strong-arm methods.

WHO PAID RENT AND RAKE-OFF?

Then appeared on the scene Special Inspector Mete, of the anti-gambling section of the police, if you will. He made short work of the problem.

"Who," queried he, addressing everybody concerned, "paid the last rent?"

Ex-Notary Bardaud scored one by any policeman who has not been to target practice for more than a month and who is suffering from a gun-powder complex. Sergeant Spurway was shot in the chest several inches above the heart and through his right shoulder. His partner, Sergeant Lee, was maimed in the left arm.

When the story was bulletined to Dr. Collins, he summoned the squad police and, although no one knows what was done, it is almost certain that somebody will be fired.

Chief Collins, however, has directed that the force be allowed to attend target practice an hour longer than has been the custom, a move which probably is calculated to work off the inhibitions of some of his men.

Montreal, Quebec.—Rev. Dr. Charles F. Akers, pastor of the First Congregational church, in the business district, has recently returned to his native Canada from America, has written A. O. Seymour, general tourist agent of the Canadian Pacific, Montreal, that he believes he can qualify as a guide for famous and somewhat difficult Mississauga canoe trip. He says: "The Mississauga canoe trip is all it is superlative! Dr. C. H. Wooley, of San Francisco, and I made a 45 days' trip.

We enjoyed every hour of the time, rain and storm, heat and cold. We know the fishing; we know where to fish live and are competent to handle our own gear."

This canoe trip, 275 miles through the Mississauga forest reserve, starts at Biscotasing on the main line of the Canadian Pacific, 348 miles northwest of Toronto. The country is wild and picturesque, big game is often sighted, and brook trout running about six pounds are not at all unusual.

BUTLER MAY REMAIN AT DEPARTMENT POST

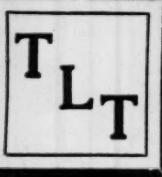

Philadelphia, October 3.—Indication that Director of Public Safety Butler intends to remain in this city as head of the police and fire departments was given today in his address to a group of police lieutenants at city hall. After reviewing his reconciliation with the mayor, whom he described as a "big-caballed man," General Butler said:

"When I first came here, there was only one thing that ever worried me—that was that I had lost my present job and it wasn't the money, but I could not bear to think of coming back to Philadelphia without this badge. I have the marine idea of hanging to a job instilled in me, and I could not bear to think of passing a traffic ticket and having him point me out as a former policeman."

"I am not going to do anything to sever that connection if I can help it. I am going to keep the badge clean. I want you men to do the same."

An Inimitable Location

Just far enough out to give you clean air, wholesome sunlight, and restful quiet, Ansley Park Extension offers an ideal location for your home.

Because of the new overtown bus line, which maintains regular schedules and which comes within three short blocks of Ansley Park Extension, this delightful residential section is readily accessible to the shopping districts.

Ansley Park Extension, modeled carefully after the original Ansley Park, is bounded by Montgomery Ferry Drive, Rock Spring Avenue, North Boulevard and the Ansley Park Golf Course.

The Ballard Make

Not a department, cut rate, or just as good for less money, but the best of everything. The best price and the best service possible, is responsible for the growth of our business—in fact, the majority of our better oculists are glad when you tell them you want Ballard to fill your glass prescription. Just ask them. We have filled their prescriptions for many years and they know how we do business. There is no use going to a first-class optician. There never was a time when the market was so flooded with imperfectly ground glasses. We are in position to take care of your wants to the limit for high-class optical service.

If you do not know us ask someone who does.

"Miss Atlanta" Off Tonight in Quest Of Fame in Movies

Miss Estelle Bradley, who won fame in the recent Atlantic City national beauty pageant, leaves tonight for Los Angeles to accept a position on the motion picture staff of Warner Brothers.

Miss Bradley was tendered this post by S. H. Warner immediately after she won The Constitution's tournament to select the 1924 "Miss Atlanta." Mr. Warner was here on a tour of inspection of theaters showing screen classics. He made the offer to "Miss Atlanta" voluntarily at a banquet in his honor at the Biltmore hotel.

"The Warner Brothers people have promised me a fair chance to make good on the silver screen," said Miss Bradley. "Friday night, and that's the last night of the tour, I expect to be offered a contract." I feel that whatever success I have attained is due to The Constitution's help, and I intend to put my very best efforts in my motion picture work."

Palace Theater—The Lone Wolf."

"Secrets."

(At the Lyric.)

"Secrets"—the sensational love story by May Edington, is to close its Lyric theater run after performances this afternoon and tonight. Next week, "A Full House," a scintillating farce comedy.

Vaudeville.

(Keith's Forsyth.)

The thousandth performance which has greeted every appearance of Miss Estelle Bradley on her return visit to Keith's Forsyth theater this week, has made the pretty little soubrette of the Jimmie Hodges company here this summer feel decidedly at home. There are four other acts.

Feet of Clay."

(At the Howard.)

Today is the last chance for those intending to witness the showing of Cecil B. DeMille's production, "Feet of Clay," a production far surpassing anything before offered by this well-known director. For the prologue little Lois Nixon will offer a series of characteristic song impersonations. Other excellent novelties will go to make up an entertaining program.

The Female."

(At the Rialto.)

The final showings of "The Female," starring Betty Compton, will take place at the Rialto tomorrow afternoon and evening. It has been extremely successful and the last showings are expected to be attended by even greater crowds than have been seeing it all week. The story is a screen version of the magazine serial, "Dalla, the Lion Cub."

MACDONALD, ZAGLOUL
CLOSE NEGOTIATIONS

London, October 3.—(By the Associated Press)—The conversations between Prime Minister MacDonald and Said Zagloul Pasha, the Egyptian premier on the Egyptian question, were concluded today and it was understood the two statesmen had arrived at an understanding which would form the basis for future negotiations on the question of the removal of troops from Cairo district and from the imperial communication system in Egypt.

President Zagloul agreed yesterday that he had made no demands on the British government, but his suggestions did not meet with Mr. MacDonald's approval.

EMORY STUDENTS NAME VAN BUREN HEAD OF COUNCIL

Emory University, October 3.—(Special)—The president of the student body of Emory university for 1924-25 is Ebenezer Van Buren, a sophomore in the school of medicine. It was announced today, following a meeting of the Student Activities council, Mr. Van Buren was elected chairman of the council, which automatically makes him president of the student body.

Mr. Van Buren has been a student at Emory for the past five years, and is recognized as one of the students having represented the university in weight events in the state track meet every year. He has won the mile walk at each meet. He was president of the Lecture association of the university last year, and is prominent in non-fraternity activities.

Other officers elected by the Student Activities council are: Vice-president Charles Hart, of the School of Liberal Arts, and secretary, D. B. Sargent, of the School of Theology.

The council is composed of the following representatives from the various schools:

Liberal Arts—Charles Hart, Ansley Moore and H. B. Scott; Business Administration—E. B. Collier, H. W. Hall, Cristina Diaz and John Boyd; Law—A. D. Darsey, G. H. Miller and Frank Therrell; Theology—D. B. Sargent, Charlie Phillips and Marvin Harper; Medicine—Ebenezer Van Buren, J. W. Bickerstaff and Marion Sally.

MRS. GERMAN CULVER SUCCUMBS AT SPARTA

Sparta, Ga., October 3.—(Special) Mrs. German P. Culver, 84, died at the home of her son, Lester C. Culver, late last night after a long illness.

Miss Culver was one of the oldest residents of Hancock county, and was a lifelong member of the Methodist church. She was formerly a school teacher in this section.

Mrs. Culver is survived by two sons, Lester C. Culver, of this city, and John Culver, of Jackson, Miss., and daughter, Miss Marcia Culver, of Atlanta.

The funeral arrangements had not been completed tonight.

DAMAGE TO HIGHWAYS REPAIRED IN THOMAS

Thomaston, Ga., October 3.—(Special)—Road forces of Thomas county are busy repairing roads, badly damaged by recent rains. Some of them have been almost impassable for several days.

Where streams were crossed by wooden bridges, the bridges have, in nearly all cases, been swept away, and supports to some of the concrete bridges were undermined by the high water. Tourists on their way to other towns have been compelled to remain where until the roads are repaired.

We have all come to believe that the cows are all in the country and that they have no city cousins, in spite of the fact that any day Washingtonians can see one of the finest herds of Holsteins in the fields near the nation's capital.

There are, however, some 1,200,000 "city" cows in the United States, as against 25,556,000 "country" cows, according to a survey by the United States department of agriculture. The combined production of the "city" cows and the "country" cows in the United States last year was 110,000,000,000 pounds of whole milk, or an average production of a cow of 4,200 pounds. The effect of city life on the producing capacity of a cow is not shown.

British and Portuguese East Africa have areas of land suitable for cotton production twice as great as the cotton of the United States.

Not a department, cut rate, or just as good for less money, but the best of everything. The best price and the best service possible, is responsible for the growth of our business—in fact, the majority of our better oculists are glad when you tell them you want Ballard to fill your glass prescription. Just ask them. We have filled their prescriptions for many years and they know how we do business. There is no use going to a first-class optician. There never was a time when the market was so flooded with imperfectly ground glasses. We are in position to take care of your wants to the limit for high-class optical service.

If you do not know us ask someone who does.

LEATHERMAN GUILTY OF TARRING WOMAN

Frederick, Md., October 3.—A verdict of guilty was returned by the jury today in the case of Harry Leatherman, indicted for tarring near Martinsburg, W. Va., at Myersville, near Frederick, last July. He was convicted on charges of aiding and abetting in the attack on the Grandon girl.

Leatherman was admitted to bail pending sentence.

Leatherman, who is one of 19 men indicted in the case, has been on trial in circuit court here since last Monday.

State's Attorney Storni said the next tar-and-feathering case would be called for trial next Wednesday.

Witnesses for the state testified that Leatherman was the organizer and leader of the mob, which Mrs. Mary Shank has pleaded guilty to as an accomplice.

The defense endeavored to show that Leatherman was merely an lookout, took no part in the affair and did not coerce Mrs. Shank by threat to tar the girl. Mrs. Shank charged that her husband and the girl were too intimate, and that this was the cause of the episode.
